There's a Certain Valley

Once a long, long time ago when all was ice, a lonely valley was born. Today this valley, our valley, lies encircled by the shadowy purple hills, a place of beauty and yet of industry. It is no longer lifeless. The woods and fields and hill-sides work their ceaseless color-magic while across its wrinkled face a river runs.

Along the scoured banks are busy factory cities, sleepy country villages, tobacco fields with their weathered drying sheds, and well-fenced acres of prosperous dairy farms. Down tree-covered slopes race the brooks which join the river until yearly it overflows. Then subsiding, past fertile fields rich with the promise of full harvests, this meandering river wends its way, until at last it empties into the sea.

● A quiet almost rustic town, built of stone and brick and wood, held firm in its foundation by hope and faith.

● Churches, sky-reaching spires and ivied walls, and rolling forth of hymn and prayer.

● And since the faithful are but men, there is a place where they may stop to seek rest and refreshment against the trials still to come.

● Nearby the offices of government stand, to knit the town into a law-abiding whole.

● And there, a house of books, for all a place of search and solitude and study.

- Along the northbound highway, on which streams of travelers wend their sundry ways, are homes secure in the warmth of companionship.
- And so that those who here abide do not lose friendship's bonds, there is a building through which messages flow, keeping touch with homes in other towns.
- Then where town turns gradually into countryside, a campus stretches wide and fair.
- A training ground where thoughts are nurtured in preparation for the struggles of later days.

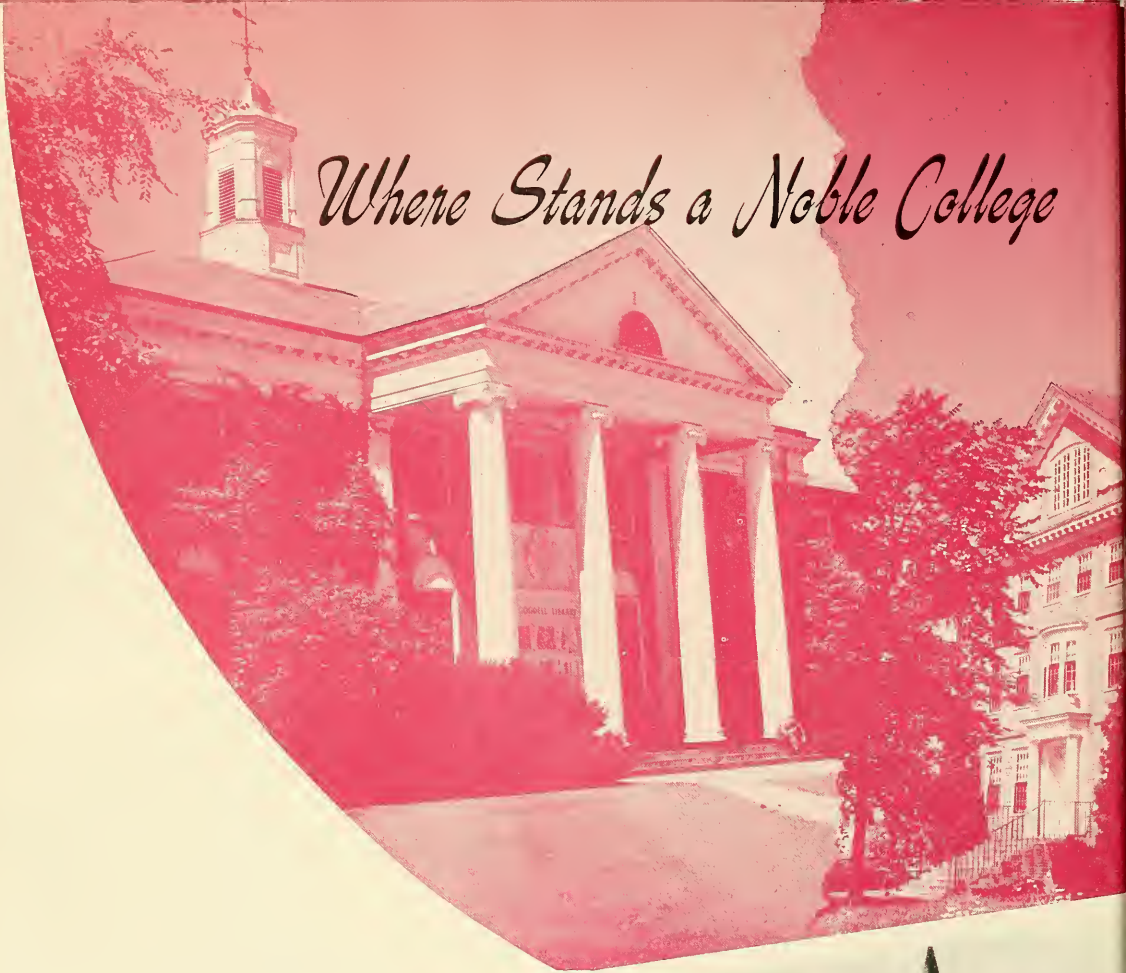

By a River's Golden Strand

In our valley stands a college, rich in tradition, its foundation set firmly in the dark brown earth. Here on this expanse of campus, blending into a harmonious whole, are buildings, books, and most important, students and teachers, for through them the college lives. How quiet "Mem" Hall, how lonesome the broad lawns and rows of trees, how useless the books were it not for the ebb and flow of succeeding generations.

Each generation, lest its tenure be forgotten, leaves some tangible expression of gratitude for the privileges enjoyed — a song, trees to shade the numeral-studded walks which wind among the buildings new and old, or chapel bells to fill the morning air. And the spirit of these givers, even more than their gifts, makes this college noble, for it is a spirit that never dies.

Where Stands a Noble College

- Here young people come questing for knowledge to aid them in their chosen ways.
- Some choose the paths of business, others economics of the home, or sciences both physical and human.
- And there are those who wish to mold and shape the minds of children who will one day fill the empty spaces within the college walls.
- This is no rosy gateway to insure fame and fortune, for the test of application comes when the theorizing classroom days are done.

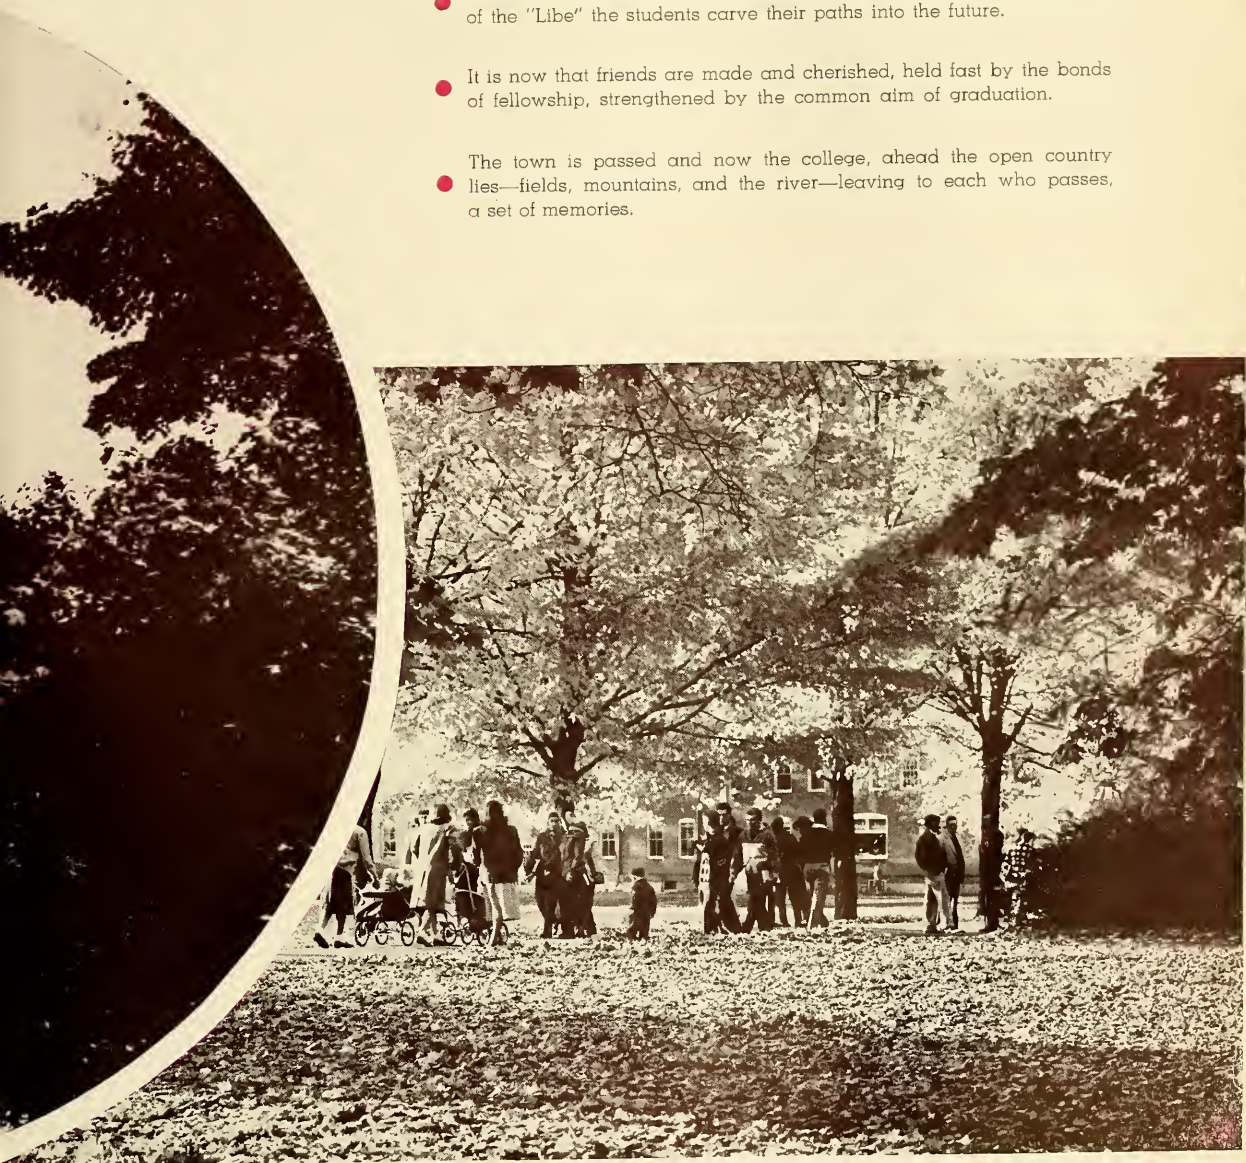

The Fairest in the Land

● But all is not work inside the college gateway, there is a gentler side which all may come to know.

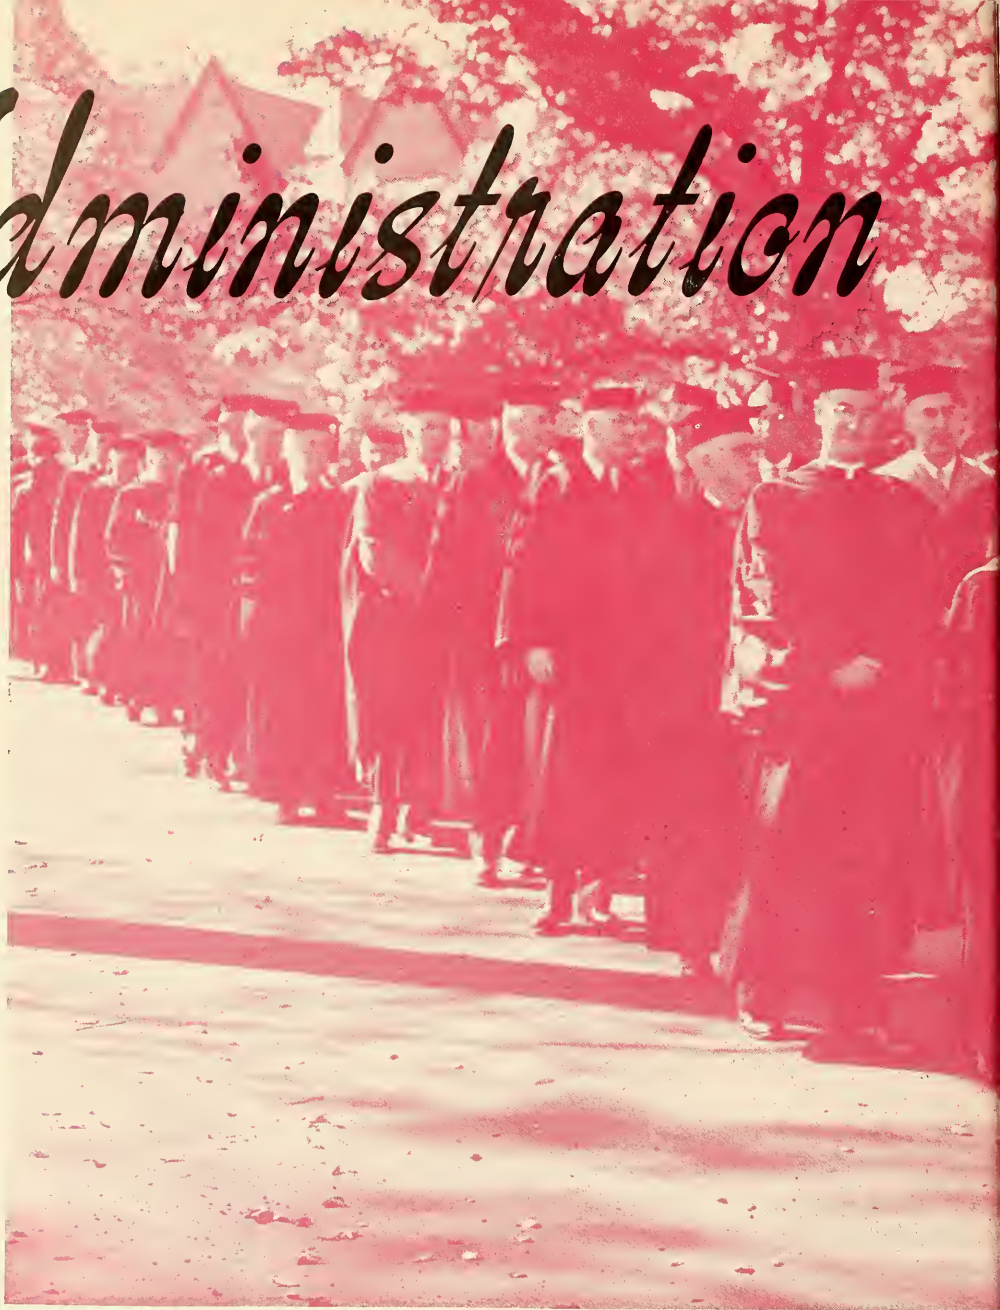

● Here in the classes of Old Chapel or at the "stacks" and study-desks of the "Libe" the students carve their paths into the future.

● It is now that friends are made and cherished, held fast by the bonds of fellowship, strengthened by the common aim of graduation.

● The town is passed and now the college, ahead the open country lies—fields, mountains, and the river—leaving to each who passes, a set of memories.

RALPH ALBERT VAN METER, B.S. (Ohio State University), M.S. (University of Massachusetts), Ph.D. (Cornell University), President of the University.

FOR HIS LEADERSHIP

Administrative head of the University of Massachusetts is Dr. Ralph Albert Van Meter, who has been with the University since 1917. After having held such administrative positions as Head of the Division of Horticulture, Head of the Department of Pomology, Dean of the School of Horticulture, and Acting President of the University, Dr. Van Meter took over the presidency in 1948 as successor to President Emeritus Hugh Potter Baker.

... THEIR SERVICES

Handling the University's finances is Robert Dorman Hawley, who has been Treasurer since 1939. Mr. Hawley previously served as Secretary of Massachusetts State College.

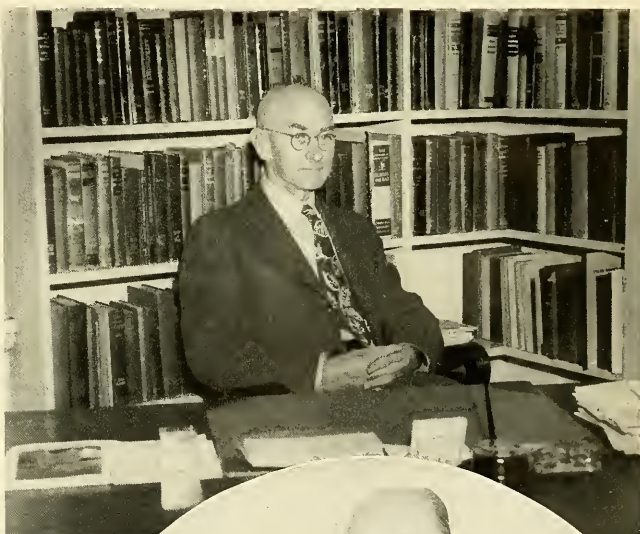

The responsibilities of Registrar Marshall Olin Lanphear include supervision of admissions, registration, and scheduling; issuance of grade reports; and preparation of the University's catalog.

Since 1939 James William Burke has performed the Secretary's function of administrative assistant to the president. He is now also the Secretary of the Board of Trustees and Acting Director of the University Extension Service.

MARSHALL OLIN LANPHEAR, B.S., M.S. (University of Massachusetts), Registrar of the University.

ROBERT DORMAN HAWLEY, B.S. (University of Massachusetts), M.B.A. (Boston University), Treasurer of the University.

JAMES WILLIAM BURKE, B.S. (University of Massachusetts), Secretary of the University.

PROFESSORS IN RETIREMENT

Professor Newlon retired last summer after serving the University for some thirty years. He taught courses in forge and farm shop work, and was for several years in charge of machine-shop courses. His enthusiasm was carried into his spare time activities also; and, since the founding of the Stockbridge school, he has worked with every class in that branch of the University.

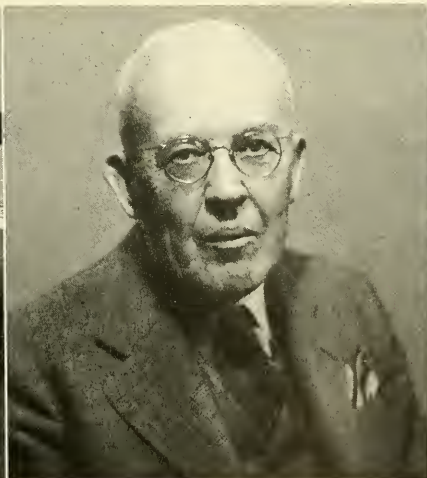

In the retirement of John Broadfoot the University has lost a capable and efficient administrator. As Assistant Treasurer he gave fully of his talents, and his knowledge of University business procedures classed him as an authority. The rapid growth of the University in recent years called for such conscientious attention as that which he directed toward the problems in the Treasurer's Office.

Under the direction of Curry Hicks, The Department of Physical Education has progressed from a humble beginning to its present stature in the University. Alumni Field, the Physical Education building, and the establishment of Physical Education as a major course of study have become realities. To those who know and love Curry Hicks, he is Mister Physical Education himself—the man to whom so many owe so much.

Professor Osmun graduated from Connecticut Agricultural College, received his master's degree on our campus in 1905, was retained as instructor in botany and became head of the department in 1915. Through his untiring efforts, the department has flourished within the crowded confines of Clark Hall. He can well be proud of this legacy to the new department head.

After forty years, a teacher has become one of our professors emeriti. Walter E. Prince's presence on this campus will not soon be forgotten by either students or colleagues, for his is the rare gift of attaining the high standard for himself which he expected of those with whom he came in contact. In his classroom literature lived.

... FAITH

... WE ARE GRATEFUL

"The spirit which inspired this gift to the Commonwealth is the spirit of every Loyal Son of 'Old Massachusetts'", said Alden Brett '12 at dedication ceremonies in 1940 at Lewis Hall, first of the alumni-built dormitories. He was addressing a group of students, faculty, trustees, alumni.

"I know of no group in which there exists so great a degree of loyalty as in our Alumni," Mr. Brett continued.

"Psychologists may agree that the scientific basis for loyalty is easily understood. But, I have the feeling that beyond our sphere of knowledge there is a scheme of things which I cannot comprehend.

I only know that when I give to others some of the good that has come to me I have a feeling of satisfaction which nothing can remove. So I believe it is with this group. In the satisfaction of a job well done we have had our reward.

It is my sincere desire that this spirit of loyalty will continue to grow and fruit in even larger achievements in the years to come to the end that our college may grow to full stature in its field of service."

The School of Agriculture endeavors to train students for actual farming research, and for the commercial phases of agriculture. Agricultural Economics and Farm Management lead to positions in research or in commercial agriculture. Agronomy, Animal Husbandry, Dairy Industry and Poultry Husbandry train students for actual farm management and production.

There are opportunities for work in Extension Service for students taking courses both in Agriculture and Horticulture. Although Veterinary Science is not a major field of study here, courses are offered to assist students in entering veterinary work.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The school's main aim is to give students basic training for business vocations. This is accomplished in the fields of General Business, Accounting, Industrial Administration, and Marketing. The General Business program offers training in business administration and in the social sciences.

Advanced, specialized training in financial management is provided in the Accounting Division. Students majoring in this field can qualify as auditors, comptrollers, income-tax consultants, etc. Students in Industrial Administration acquire a background for the understanding of business enterprise, its problems and relations. The remaining curriculum in Business Administration, Marketing, prepares one for selling and advertising.

The School of Engineering offers courses in Agricultural Engineering, Light Building Construction, Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Chemical Engineering. The curricula offered by the school is carefully laid out to give the student a sound training in the fundamentals of the various branches of his chosen field, while giving him, at the same time, intensive training in mathematics and science, the important tools of the engineer.

The new engineering building, Gunness Laboratory, was finally completed and occupied at the beginning of the school year, thus alleviating considerably the crowded classroom situation and making available more technical equipment.

The number of Freshmen enrolled in the School of Home Economics this year was twice that of last year, making a total of 177 Home-Ec majors in the school. The number of courses offered has also increased, with the introduction of two new courses to the Child Development and Family Life program.

In recent years, the demand for Home Economics graduates has far exceeded the supply. Employment, with opportunity for advancement, is very probable for any student who successfully completes one of the four-year programs in the school.

Many opportunities to study the different phases of horticulture are available to the students in the School of Horticulture, which includes the Departments of Floriculture, Food Technology, Forestry, and Wild Life Management. Students receive training in the following: growing and marketing of flowers, fruits, vegetables, and ornamental shrubs; breeding and improvement of plants; active management and conservation of forests and wild life; design, planting, and care of ornamental plantings; and in the processing and technology of food products.

The Thirty-Seventh Annual Horticulture Show held in November displayed the talents of the various students in the School.

LIBERAL ARTS

The School of Liberal Arts this year had the largest enrollment of all the University schools, with 804 students in the departments of English, Economics, Education, Fine Arts, German, History and Sociology, Philosophy, Psychology, and Romance Languages.

A program has been presented which would lead to the establishment of a Master of Arts degree in the Graduate School, and it is hoped that this step will be authorized by the end of the year.

Also, provision has been made to combine the School of Liberal Arts and the School of Science in a College of Arts and Sciences.

Enrollment in the Division of Military Science and Tactics is required of all four-year male students, with the exception of veterans of World War II. Those approved veteran and non-veteran students may elect, in their junior and senior years, the advanced courses in either the Armored Cavalry unit or the Air Force unit.

The purpose of the Reserve Officers Training Corps is to provide systematic military training at civil educational institutions, and to produce junior officers who will have the qualifications necessary for officers of the United States Army.

The School of Physical Education at the University is rapidly assuming an important position on the campus. Under Director of Athletics Warren McGuirk, facilities and the entire program have been expanded, with a corresponding improvement in the intercollegiate and intramural athletic programs. Academic physical education courses have been added, and more practical work is being given to this school's majors by the athletic coaches. With the improvement of our athletic squads, and the increasing importance of athletics, the school's enrollment has increased and will probably continue to do so.

The School of Science includes the Department of Bacteriology and Public Health, Botany, Chemistry, Entomology and Zoology, Geology and Mineralogy, Physics and Physiology.

The curriculum of the School of Science is devised to give one the simple fundamentals of his chosen field of study and to gradually build up to specialized advanced studies, while giving him, at the same time, a broad and cultural education. The school offers special curricula for the needs of pre-medical, pre-dental, and pre-veterinary students, and for those who plan to be laboratory technicians or work for the Public Health Service.

APRIL Showers, Greek Week,

• Baseball was also in the air, as our eager Redmen contested many and varied opponents.

and Baseball

• A.E.Pi's Frankenstein-monster play won first place in the inter-fraternity skits of Greek Week.

• Although April was a month of showers, songs, and skits, exams still played a vital role in student life.

• In the fleeting moments between exams, the students often paused to breathe in the fragrance of early Spring.

• But all the pleasures were not outdoors; "Naughty Marietta" tripped lightly over Bowker's stage.

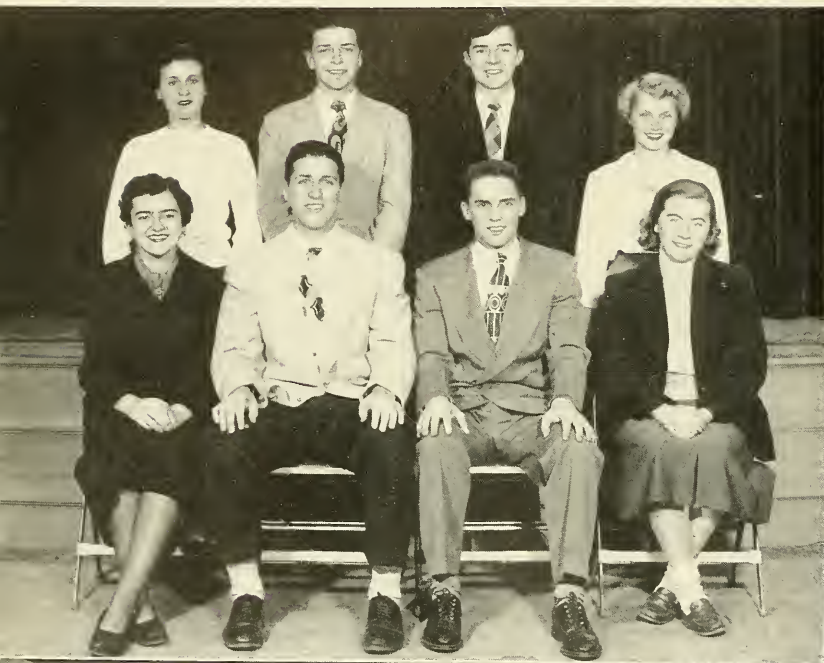

MAY Flowers, Balmy Days,

• Preparation for the Commencement Week formal started early in May for the Soph-Senior Hop Committee.

• Hank Pierce groomed Tabby for his appearance in "I Remember Mama." After all, the make-up of the whole cast must be perfect.

• In the Spring production of the Roister Doisters, "I Remember Mama," the cast and crew reached new heights in displaying staging and acting ability.

• The faculty and their wives somehow found time to enjoy the serenity of the woodlands and the coolness of nearby brooks.

and Finals

• Warm Spring weather took the girls' gym classes out-of-doors. These girls totaled their archery scores and smiled.

• "Keep cool" was the watchword of the sophomore picnic. Cancellation of Spring Day did not stop the Class of '51; they had their own picnic.

• Spring blossoms and Alice O'Donnell.

• Although balmy weather had come, classes still went on.

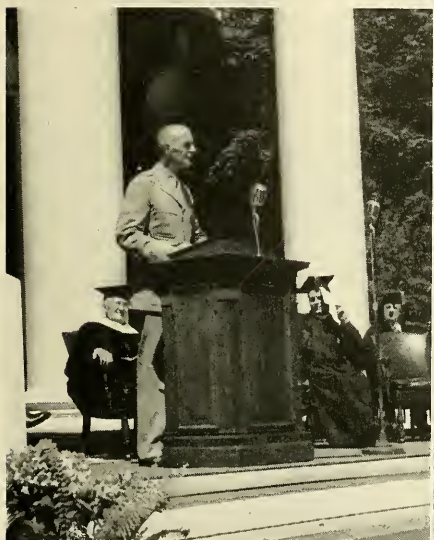

JUNE... Graduation, the Soph-Senior Hop,

• Graduation, the last ceremony before leaving college. These graduates have now joined the ranks of alumni.

• Dan Daly received the class mantle for the Class of 1950 from the departing seniors.

• Another Commencement tradition, the Ivy Oration, was given by Marie Matthes representing the Class of 1949; and new ivy was planted by Ed McGrath and Don Kinsman.

and Farewell to Bay State

• The Hatchet Oration—a time-honored tradition of the University.

• Keynote speaker for graduation was General Robert M. Webster of the University of California.

• On graduation eve the seniors marched together to baccalaureate services conducted by the Reverend Arthur B. Coe.

• All former graduates remain a part of the University; and at each commencement the classes of the past return to renew old memories.

• Twinkling stars in a blue velvet heaven and the soft strains of Billy Note's music created the wonderland setting for the departing seniors' last formal dance.

SEPTEMBER .. Registration, Indoctrination,

• A sad consequence of the start of a new college year is the beginning of classes, but a class here and there to fill in the hours is interesting at times.

• The U-stare at ten o'clock in the morning—the University's only non-credit course.

• Warm sunshine and falling leaves made classes an uninteresting destination at times.

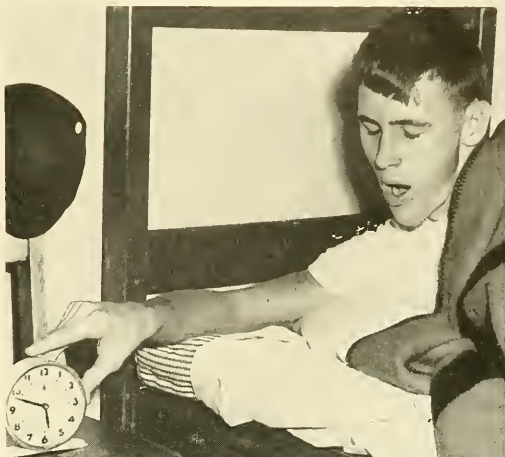

• The alarm rang at an ungodly hour and the Freshmen fellows were off to "serenade" the coeds.

• A splash— and the Freshmen came through the College Pond.

• The Freshmen worked hard, but the Sophomores won the Rope Pull. To the class of '53, it was but practice for a victory next September.

• Fall brought football; the bleachers rocked as the crowd cheered.

• Exciting football rallies were the highlights of pre-game activities. The band, cheerleaders, drill team, and students combined to make them a success.

and Classes

OCTOBER.... Halloween, Falling Leaves,

• Another football rally, more songs and cheers, and building spirit for the Norwich game.

• A milestone in the expansion of the University, the dedication of the Gunness Engineering Laboratory.

• The University Concert Association opened its season with a concert by the beautiful mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera House, Rise Stevens.

• Precision and performance supreme—the Danish Gym Exhibition.

and Flying Footballs

• President Van Meter cut the ribbon and WMUA was back on the air. A new station, rebuilt by the students and faculty, was open for inspection.

• WMUA's "inner executive circle." Through the efforts of these students, the radio station and its open house proved to be successful.

• A hopeful, blow-by-blow description and prediction.

• This month found the Campus Chest committee preparing plans for carrying out its functions.

NOVEMBER . . The Hort Show, Thanksgiving,

• AEPI's decorated their house to beat Tufts and greet homecoming alumni.

• Autumn Nocturne—the first Phi Sig formal of the year.

• Barbara Konopka, the lovely blond queen chosen to reign over the 37th Annual Horticulture Show.

• First place among the formal displays of the Hort Show was this scene depicting a bountiful harvest.

• The second program of the concert series was a joint piano recital by Joseph Fuchs and Eugene Istomin.

• Autumn weather created excellent conditions for the mass ROTC practice drill.

• "Girl Crazy" characters—Anne Morrill and Gil Nadeau.

• The cast, chorale, and Doric Alviani made the Gershwin operetta, "Girl Crazy," a memorable experience.

• Sig Ep's float for the Tufts rally was one of the finest displayed.

• Another float in the Tuft's rally parade was the one constructed by the Abbey and Commonwealth Circle.

and Thoughts of Winter

DECEMBER . . . Carols, the Military Ball,

• The rhythmic beat of Mexican music set the scene for Sig Ep's Gaucho Party. South of the border music, costumes, and food made it an evening with a Mexican flare.

• Music for this year's Ball was presented by Duke Ellington's band—music for both listening and dancing pleasure.

• A view of the gentlemen who formulated the plans for the ball—the Military Ball Committee.

• Gateway to an enjoyable evening of music and dancing, the Military Ball.

and the Yuletide Season

• Petite Joann O'Rourke, queen of the Military Ball.

• Cast and directors going over the plans for their presentation of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

• The Roister Doister production of "Midsummer Night's Dream" showed that the cultural can also be entertaining.

• Parties were given for orphans by the fraternal organizations as the Yuletide Season approached.

JANUARY . . Headaches, Exams, and the

• The University's Vegetable Judging Team, first prize winners in the nationwide judging contest held in Washington, D. C.

• Instructor Manfredi attempting to steal the show, much to the amusement of the student audience.

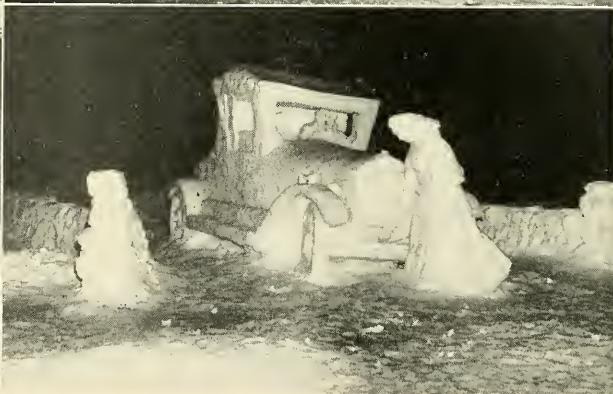

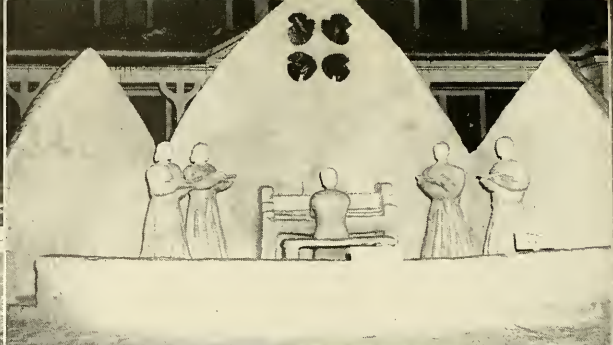

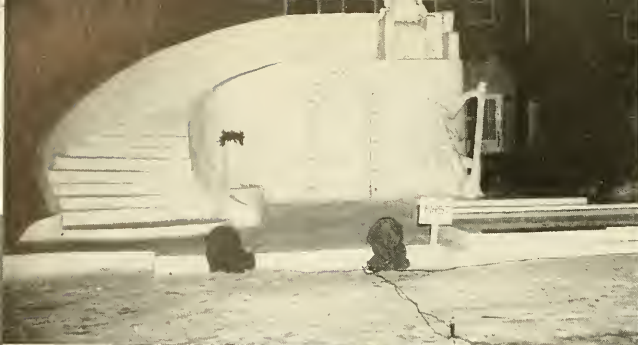

• A winter-wonderland panorama, the picturesque garden of the President.

Faculty Frantics

- With mid-year finals approaching, students' thoughts turned hurriedly to study.
- Study hours were momentarily interrupted as "Greek" pledges reigned supreme.
- All was not study, however; students somehow managed to sneak in a cup of coffee now and then.
- The Statesmen—the University's double quartet rendered music throughout the school year.

FEBRUARY.. Freezing Winds, Icy Fingers,

• Theta Chi's "Song of Winter," first prize winter in the inter-fraternity Greek Week sculpture competitions of the Winter Carnival.

• Alpha Gamma Rho's "Gothic Choir Loft" came in a strong third in the men's division.

• "Refuge" by AEPi won second prize in the well-contested fraternity snow projects.

• "Guiding Spirit," sculptured by TEP, remained in strong contention throughout the winter carnival judging.

• First prize winner in the women's division was the Pi Beta Phi version of "Cinderella."

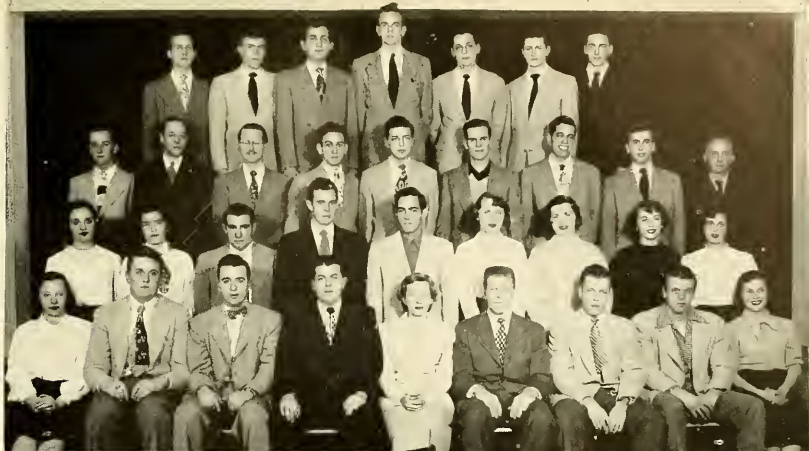

• Sig Ep's "Snowbound" received honorable mention for its sculpturing efforts.

• The Winter Carnival Committee played a prominent part in publicizing the University's annual Winter Carnival.

• "Curses, foiled again"—the villain of the Senior Class Play, "Parted on the Wedding Morn," or she is "More to Be Pitied Than Censured."

• Audience reacted hilariously toward the Senior Class Play.

• Feminine beauty graced the scenic winter-wonderland of the campus.

and the Snow Sculptures

• A huge male audience was on hand to view the Flower and Fashion Show put on by the Horticulture and Home Economics clubs.

• Vicki Milandri, one of the lovely participants who displayed fashions of the future.

• For those who enjoyed concert music, an interlude of piano music was a welcome addition.

• "Les Foiles Bergere," abounded in talent and entertainment.

FEBRUARY . . . Skiing, Skating, and

• Highlighting the University Chorale's musical performances was the broadcast over stations WBZ-WBZA.

• The big event of the Winter Carnival was dancing to the music of Les Elgart's and Enoch Light's orchestras.

• Beauteous queens of the Winter Carnival Ball.

• Climaxing the Winter Carnival Ball was the coronation of Barbara Konopka—queen of queens.

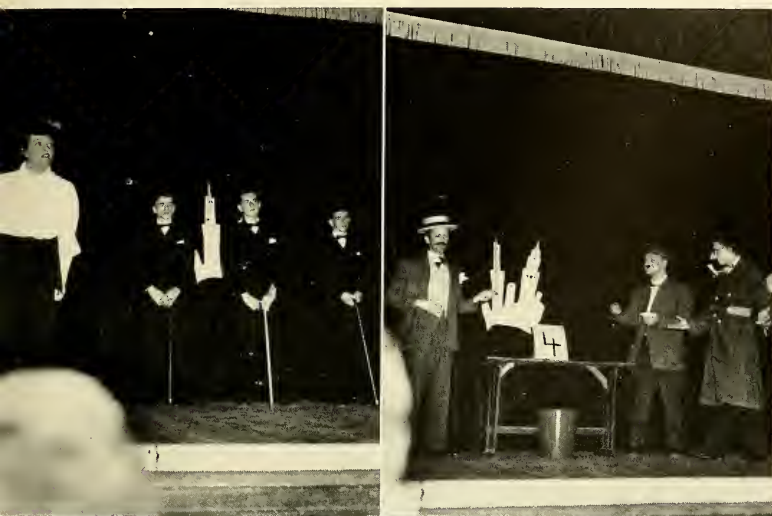

the Winter Carnival

MARCH. .Hell Week, Campus Varieties,

- A flurry of snow and Old King Winter found himself once again on his throne.
- The waning moments of winter found students taking advantage of all available opportunities for skating.
- Still, scholastic standards had to be maintained, and students kept themselves busy with their books.
- Draper Hall Snack Bar, nevertheless, provided sanctuary for those who wished to evade studies and classes.
- "Little International" helped to brighten up the cold weekends as spectators were treated with interesting, and sometimes amusing, sights.

and The Good Ship HMS Pinafore

• Highlighting the month was the Campus Varieties—staged, directed, enacted, and presented in its entirety by students.

• This bit of comedy all but stole the show . . .

• The Robert Shaw Chorale was enthusiastically received by an appreciative audience.

• His Majesty's Ship, the "Pinafore", presented both villains and heroines in Gilbert and Sullivan's popular operetta as produced by the University Operetta Guild.

• Ruler of the Royal Navy is the Savoyards' Howard Galley in the role of Sir Joseph Porter.

THE ABBEY

To a stranger, the "Abbey" might seem a sort of monasterial affair, but a view of life inside this girls' dormitory would soon change his mind.

The girls of the Abbey (short for Abigail Adams House) are no different than other coeds. The "center," with its baby-grand, soft sofas and general atmosphere of comfort is a feature attraction for all. But take a peek into any of the rooms, and usually one will see pages flipping and pencils flying, for even though the "center" is all but irresistible the girls realize that they must plug, plug, plug.

LEWIS HALL

In the early days of September (when Freshmen were still in a haze) Lewis Hall held its Annual Welcoming Dance. It was an opportune time for all the students to make new acquaintances. Social Chairman, Eunice Diamond, was congratulated for the success of the party.

On the three topmost floors live those ever-charming Freshmen girls, while upper-classmen reside in the rooms on the first floor.

Mrs. Churchill, the congenial and helpful housemother, has frequently been of assistance to the girls and their inevitable problems. In her apartment is invariably found a cluster of chattering girls, mulling over their current difficulties.

THATCHER HALL

Having housed upper-classmen in the previous years, Thatcher Hall opened its doors to Freshman girls this year. The third and fourth floors of the dorm are an alternating scene of study and "horseplay", for here is where the Freshmen reside. Under the watchful eye of the upperclassmen, they learned to enjoy a full college life.

On Armistice Day, an Open House Dance welcomed all the new students. Barbara Stevens, able Social Chairman, was responsible for the success of the dance.

First semester marked the arrival of men students in Hamlin and Knowlton. Friendships grew as both men and women scrambled for flashlights and books of Morse code.

BROOKS HOUSE

Winners of the League B intramural football championship, the boys of Brooks House started the year with a fair chance to take campus intramural athletic honors. Unfortunately, however, the opening of Hamlin and Knowlton Houses at midsemester brought about the transfer of several Brooks' athletic lights and the promise shown earlier in the season was never fulfilled.

Socially, Brooks did well for itself with two house dances that were pronounced "roaring" successes. Main activity in the Brooks rec-room was BRIDGE, BRIDGE, and more BRIDGE. Profs who complained of sleepy-eyed Brooks residents in eight o'clock classes were doubtless unaware of the cut-throat, all-night bridge sessions held frequently in the dormitory.

BUTTERFIELD HALL

Up on the "mount" things are always jumping. A few of the "things" were the two dances given at Butterfield in October and January under the leadership of Social Chairman Bob Servais and the exchange suppers at which the freshmen boys and girls got better acquainted. "Things" could also mean the first-rate intramural athletic team supervised by Athletic Manager Al Winterhalter or drives such as the Community Chest which, under Treasurer Paul Robbins, had more money subscribed than any other house on campus. Then, too, Chuck Duerwaerder has relinquished the office of House President to Dave Flood.

CHADBOURNE HALL

With the Freshman class growing increasingly larger, the overflow spread from Butterfield to Chadbourne. For awhile, even class entity was denied them, for the dorm was still packed with Devens men waiting for the new houses to be built. Under the Devens influence, Markarian and Donigian were elected to the Senate. It seemed at the time that Chadbourne was doomed to be the catch-all of Butterfield, until, at last, the "Great Migration" was on. The Devens boys left; the Butterfield surplus was moved in; and, finally, the Freshman class was as one.

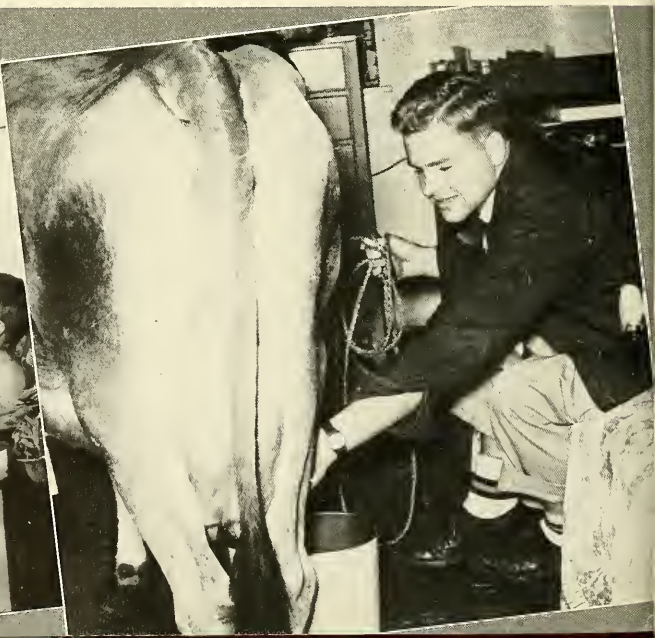

COUNTY CIRCLE

At the southern extremity of the campus lie the five new dorms which comprise County Circle. Hampshire, Suffolk, Berkshire, and Plymouth were opened in 1948, Middlesex shortly thereafter. Hampshire and Suffolk contain the married student's apartments, whereas the other dorms are for the single men.

Plymouth has started a "coke fund" for athletic scholarships, and also has held several dances, one of them jointly with Middlesex. In the latter dorm several ping pong tournaments have been held. A bowling league has been started among the men's dorms and all are participating vigorously. Furthermore, all the dorms take part in all the intramural sports on campus.

GREENOUGH HALL

Greenough is certainly not unique among the men's dormitories, but it does have some claim to fame: that tipsy but towering toboggan which took up space in the front of Greenough in February was one of the few dormitory entries in the Snow Sculpture competition. What was its fate? Well, we're sure it melted!

With the appearance of Spring came the dance on the night of April 18th. Frank Sotille and his orchestra furnished the music.

Washing dirty socks, playing softball, having water-pistol fights, playing chess, bridge, and poker—all these make up life in Greenough. Oh, yes, and studying, too.

COMMONWEALTH CIRCLE

Commonwealth Circle wound up its fourth year of college with one of its buildings two-thirds missing. A fire in the month of February burned the S Building so badly that two of the wings had to be torn down and the third converted into a storeroom.

Besides the conflagration, the boys in the Circle hosted some orphans at Christmas time with the able assistance of the girls at the Abbey.

The fate of the Circle next year is undetermined, but some of the buildings may be used. Eventually, the space occupied by the well-known frame buildings will be used for new University structures.

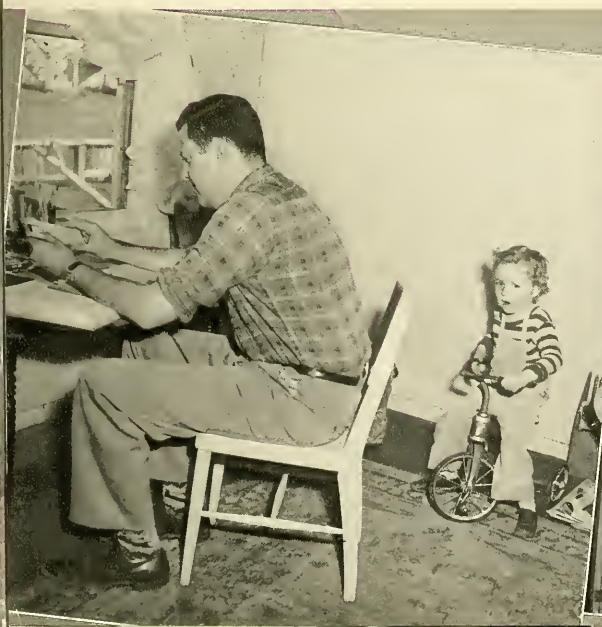

FEDERAL CIRCLE

Federal Circle was built for the University in 1946 to provide for the acute housing shortage caused by the returning veteran with his family. Known affectionately as "Maternity Row", it provides comfort and convenience for these ninety-four young families; some of whom are undertaking their first house-keeping chores.

It is the scene of baby carriages and lines of diapers, clubs of various types, and over-the-fence gossip. The homey atmosphere found in the Circle is only exceeded by its community spirit.

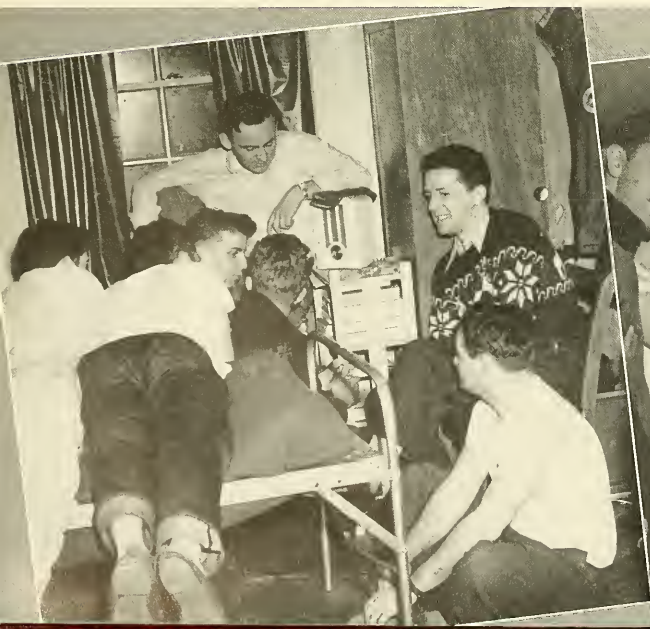

HAMLIN HOUSE

Hamlin House, named for Margaret Hamlin, Placement Officer for Women from 1913-1948, was opened this past winter. It was used to house the overflow of male students this past Spring semester. Official dedication ceremonies will be instituted for this future women's dormitory next fall. This building is of the newest design and has all the facilities of a model dormitory, soundproofing not the least of all the innovations.

The official housewarming dance was held in the first week of January, and was attended by some two hundred students and school officials.

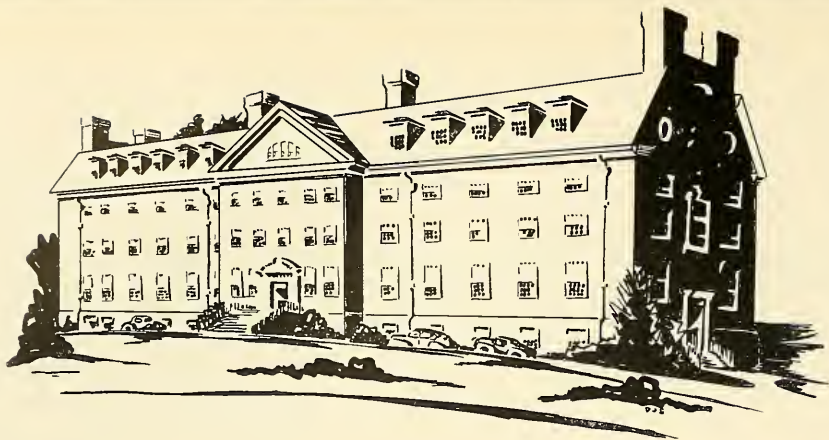

KNOWLTON HOUSE

Knowlton House is one of the two new girls' dormitories which was opened in January to relieve the cramped housing situation. Knowlton and Hamlin, the other girls' dormitory, have housed male students this past Spring semester. The trustees chose the name of Knowlton; Helen Knowlton was an assistant professor of Home Economics here at the University. After June Commencement, Knowlton will be turned over to the women students, and the official dedication will be held in the Fall of 1950.

These new buildings are to be part of a quadrangle, which will include another dormitory north of Lewis and a women's gym and dining hall.

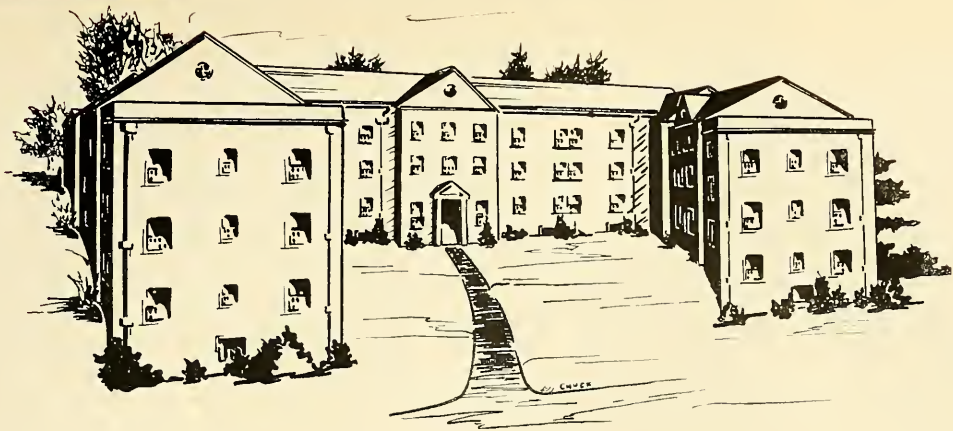

MILLS HOUSE

In November of 1949, Mills House held its first housewarming dance. The recreation room, the scene of the dance, was gaily decorated and the lighting was soft. A loudspeaker system and numerous records were provided by WMUA. Once the party got into full swing one could hardly believe that this was a dormitory.

Laise Moncey and her accordion and Al Sidell, campus vocalizer, accompanied by Leo Silva and his guitar, provided a bright bit of entertainment for the dance.

A check was presented to Wayne Langill, representative of WMUA, which will be used to enlarge the radio station's record library.

FACULTY APARTMENTS

The fifty-apartment faculty housing project, constructed by the University Building Association at the request of the Trustees, was expected to be ready for occupancy by June 1st.

This project was built on the same basis as the eight self-liquidating dormitories which have been constructed by the Building Association. The building is leased by the Trustees at an annual rental sufficient to cover the interest on the bonds and the liquidation of the principal over a period of 24 years.

The brick building with its own central heating plant will have water and heat supplied by the University.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

PRESIDENT: Barbara Kinghorn

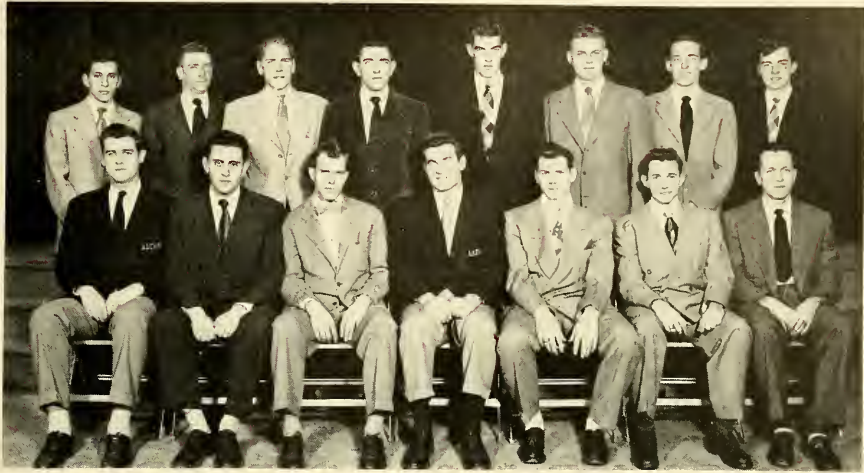

VICE-PRESIDENT: Lael Powers

SECRETARY: Barbara Dean

TREASURER: Joan Silverman

The guiding hand behind all sororities on campus is the Panhellenic Council, part of a national organization. The Council is composed of two representatives from each of the five sororities on campus. The sole purpose of the organization is to help sororities and not to rule them. The spirit of friendship and co-operation among sororities is fostered by the Panhellenic Council.

Under the helpful sponsorship of the Council, the sororities conduct their annual Round Robin teas and rushing activities.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of a delegate from each of the ten fraternities on campus. The immediate responsibility of the Council is the betterment of Greek spirit on the campus. Things accomplished by the Council this year include the sponsoring of the Chowder and Marching Society, the Mardi Gras for the scholarship fund, and the annual Greek Ball.

INTER-FRATERNITY JUDICIARY

It is the purpose of the Inter-Fraternity Judiciary Board to share a primary loyalty to the University of Massachusetts and to serve its best interests; and, to seek close co-operation and spirit of good will between fraternities for their mutual benefit as well as the exercise of responsible self-government within the student body.

Aaron Rosenfield, Robert Johnston, Vice-Chairman

CHI OMEGA

Leaving the campus in a "blaze of glory" in the spring of 1949, the Chi Omegas returned in the fall and extended a warm hand of appreciation to faculty and students by having two open houses. Social activities of the year included a faculty tea for the new housemother, Mrs. Bouthillette, a Christmas party, a pledge formal, and a tea for all senior women. Two new cups have been added to the mantelpiece of the house on Lincoln Avenue, one for the Military Ball Queen and one for the Horticulture Queen.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Kappa Alpha Theta, or "Theta," started the school year, 1949, with flying colors. The interior of the house was subjected to a five-day beauty plan, with all the members actively participating as painters and carpenters. At the same time, the Thetas began to look ahead, wondering what was in store for the coming year.

In the field of athletics, Theta has participated in field hockey, volleyball, and basketball, and is looking forward to bowling, and softball. Scholastically, the Thetas, with the rest of the students on campus, are aiming for good academic records.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Kappas of Delta Nu chapter have been busy with scholastic, social, and extra-curricular activities since early fall.

Prominent in their contributions to campus life, many Naiad-swimmers, W.A.A. officers, Collegian and Index staff members, and Drill Team marchers make their home at Kappa.

The "Scavenger Hunt" dance, held early in the fall proved to be such a success that it has earned a place among our list of annuals; the "Spring Hop," also, held on the evening of Spring Housecleaning Day, was lots of fun.

Pi Phi's social calendar included post-football game "coffee hours," exchange dinners with fraternities and sororities, a farewell party for AEPi, a reception for Knowlton Dorm, and the annual Pledge Formal. Also, the "Pi Phi Pipettes," the singing sextet, was organized in order to entertain at rush teas, open houses, and other occasions.

The Massachusetts Betas held some of the most important campus positions: the president of the Panhellenic Council, the manager of the Drill Team, the Winter Carnival chairman, two Scrolls, an Isogon member, three Senators, the President of the Home Economics Club, and a 4-H Award winner.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

With the highest scholastic record among sorority women on this campus and in their national group, a varied social program including "Pledge Formal" weekend, and an active and interested new Boston alumnae league, the S.D.T.s completed a busy and exciting year.

S.D.T. wheels helped make campus affairs go round, with three Senate members, the president of Isogon, a member of the Women's Judiciary Board, the Editor of the Quarterly, Associate Editor of the Collegian, and key members of Roister Doisters in the house.

SIGMA KAPPA

The Sigma Kappas this year began what they hope will be a tradition in years to come—an honorary tea for members of the hockey and basketball teams. This social event was greatly appreciated by those who attended, so much so that a note of thanks was published in the Collegian. In addition, the Sigmas had several invitation dances, and the annual pledge formal.

Sigmas were prominent in campus literary activities, dramatics, and sports. Pride of the house was Vicki Milandri, a member of the Winter Carnival court, and a candidate for Honorary Colonel.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

A.E.Pi, after receiving the inter-fraternity cup for the second year in a row, hit the headlines again when it announced that it had purchased a new house on 136 Sunset Avenue. The new house, formerly the estate of James Clayton, was redecorated in short order by A.E.Pi. This season "Pi" started out for its third straight cup by winning inter-fraternity football for the third year in a row. Socially, the Priscn Dance turned out to be a hugh success, as did the annual "Military Brawl," which topped off the big "Military" weekend.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

With a host of renovations and improvements during the year, Alpha Gamma Rho continues to travel along the path of fraternal success.

Acquisition of new members and pledges has boosted membership to a total of 70 or more. Alpha Gamma Rho may still reign as "The House of Presidents" with Frank Rollins, President of the Newman Club; Ted Sylvia, Pre-veterinary Club; Henry Trimble, Animal Husbandry Club; and Len Todd, Floriculture Club. Vice-Presidencies include Al Keough, Chemistry Club and Hank Thompson, Inter-Fraternity Council.

KAPPA SIGMA

This year Kappa Sigma was again one of the most active fraternities on campus. In addition to the annual Embassy Ball, Gamma-Delta chapter held many other successful social events. Notable among them was the "Harvest Brawl," the night before the formal Embassy Ball. A Christmas party was held for a group of orphans from Brightside.

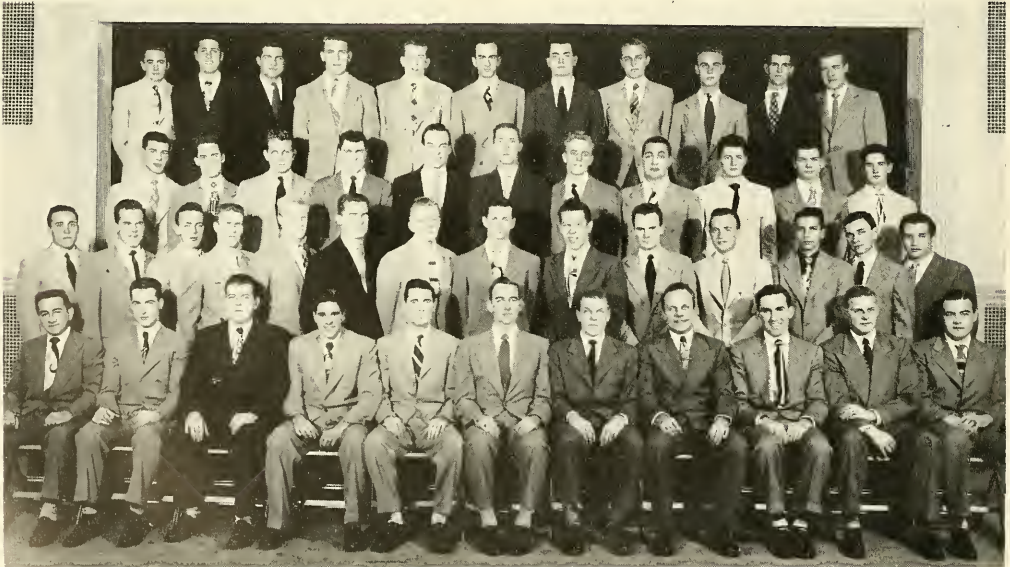

A new activity this year was the sponsorship of a Greek war orphan, John Gianikakas. Through monthly donations by the brothers, John is receiving food and clothing to help him back to a normal and healthy life.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Perhaps Lambda Chi's greatest claim to campus recognition is its active participation in University athletics. Lambda Chi has supplied University teams with an abundance of athletes this past year, including both football captains, a soccer co-captain, and many individual stand-outs.

The house has, however, distinguished itself in fields other than that of sports, furnishing two class vice-presidents and numerous leaders of campus activities during the year.

Other Lambda Chi distinctions this year are the nomination of the right candidate for Honorary Colonel, and its runner-up position in a football rally contest.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

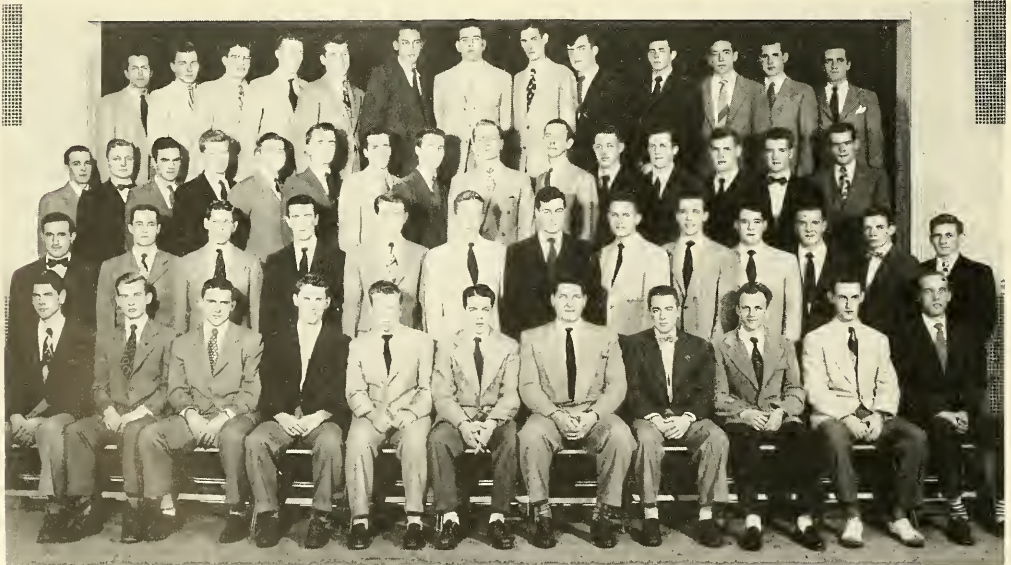

Phi Sig this year began broadening its social program. Innovations included a Christmas Party for the children of Brightside Home, and the adoption of a Dutch war orphan. Meanwhile, the annual Autumn Nocturne Dance continued to highlight the fall-fun calendar.

Extra-curricular activities also received their full share of attention from the men of Phi Sig. The house could pridefully claim representation in all major sports, on various campus committees, and in dramatic and choral groups. The roster of campus officers proves that Phi Sig scored well politically, the presidencies of various clubs, and of the sophomore and junior classes falling to house members.

Q. T. V.

By far the oldest fraternity on campus, Q.T.V. began its ninth decade this past year. With the completion of house improvements and the creation of the "Nautical Room," Q.T.V. concluded one of its most successful social seasons. Highlighting the social events were the "Homecoming Weekend" party and numerous weekend dances.

In both athletics and academics, the record was a good one—the house boasting two co-captains on the University Hockey Team, and many members in almost every major sport and activity.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

A variety of campus activities has quite enhanced the reputation of S.A.E. this year. It has been well represented in varsity athletics, and in campus dramatic presentations. S.A.E.'s social calendar has been highlighted by its annual formal, the "January Thaw," and the popular "Apache Dance."

Among S.A.E.'s pledges are men who are outstanding both scholastically and athletically, and who promise to become campus leaders, as have so many S.A.E.'s in the past. As a more solemn note, the fraternity laments the loss of Daniel Murphy, a promising young member, who died suddenly last April.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sig Ep's claim to recognition on campus, after a reorganization period of one year, reached its peak at the housewarming of its new house and the "Gaucho" party, which is to be an annual affair.

It takes a great amount of work to reactivate a chapter, but because of the combined efforts of the three original members and a group of Devensmen, Sig Ep now stands on equal grounds with any of the University fraternities—this after but one year, a year of vigorous activity in the social and academic life here on campus.

TAU EPSILON PHI

T.E.P., this past semester, for the fourth consecutive time, has won the Inter-Fraternity scholarship cup, awarded to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average. Socially, the "Vice," "Hell," and "Heaven" dances were only a few of a new series of popular novelty affairs which were initiated by the T.E.P.s. The fraternities greatest tribute this year was, however, accorded them at the National Convention in Chicago, when the unprecedented number of six awards, individual and chapter, were presented to the T.E.P. chapter of the University of Massachusetts.

THETA CHI

Unlike Li'l Abner and the Dog Patchers, Theta Chi men look forward to Sadie Hawkin's Day with anticipation, for it brings to them one of the most colorful of frat dances held on campus, surpassed perhaps only by the house's "Bowery Ball."

Dances are not, however, the only thing on foot. This Fall, Theta Chi took first prize in the float contest, and came out second in the Inter-Fraternity Snow Sculpture contest last year.

With its members active in sports, politics, writing, dramatics, and most social functions, Theta Chi is well represented on campus.

The smoke of a thousand and one cigarettes hung heavily; ashes and crumpled butts lay promiscuously about the ash trays; a pair of size twelves shifted comfortably on the desk, which was littered with creased, crumpled, and well-rubricated papers. But all was not quiet—"Clickety-clack", then "wham", as the typewriter carriage flew back to start another and countless line—"Hey! Haven't you got that thing done yet?"—"Where are those pictures?"—"Who in ——— wrote this?" And so goes a session in the Index office. The work of compiling statistics, getting photos, writing and re-writing, making and adhering to the lay-out, sketching, designing, etc. are but some of the activities necessary for the publication of our yearbook—the permanent record of a year of life, a record which many years from now will recall warm and wistful memories.

Despite many trials and tribulations brought on by a scanty budget, the Collegian nearly always met the deadline, and generally lived up to its oft-hoisted-at slogan, "A Free and Responsible Press". Things went along quite smoothly most of the time, except on the evenings when Sol had to write all the news stories, or James Patrick got rabid about infirmity conditions. Much that was hilarious went on in the office, but the group had its serious side, too.

"Cut that story to eight inches"

"Let's go to press!"

THE QUARTERLY

Campus Ernest Hemingways and Dorothy Parkers got their names in print . . . the Music, Economic, and Psychology departments aired their views . . . and with a new format, a new office in Memorial Hall, and a new adviser (Mr. Sidney Kaplan) The Quarterly successfully published four issues this year.

The Quarterly has become, in its own right, not only a literary magazine, but also a journal of ideas and opinions. And, in addition, The Quarterly worked in conjunction with the new Writers' Club; in February, the magazine brought Harvard's John Ciardi to the campus as a lecturer.

To find a complete guide to activities, organizations, rules and regulations of the University, the student need only look in the Handbook, put out yearly for students of all classes. Also included in the Handbook is a map of the campus (of invaluable aid to the Freshman), an all-purpose calendar, and school songs and cheers.

This year, in realization of the increasing needs of a growing university, the Music Guild was formed. It is in essence the planning body of all campus music activities, having as its aim the presentation of a varied musical program. Composed of student music organization managers, the Music Guild coordinates problems of performance dates, programs, and equipment. Functions this year were a program for Freshmen, introducing them to University music organizations, the well-remembered "Holiday of Music", and the extra task of compiling a song book. Future plans are flexible, being tempered to campus community needs.

CONCERT BAND

For a second successful year the University of Massachusetts Concert Band has staged concert performances both on and off campus. Men and women musicians of the student body worked together, under the direction of Ezra Schabas, to present concerts during Music Week here and before Christmas at the Leeds Veteran Hospital in Northampton.

MARCHING BAND

This year the University Marching Band, composed entirely of men, played an active part in encouraging school spirit at football games and rallies. At each rally the band, accompanied by students carrying torches, marched around campus. The organization, in cooperation with the drill team, also took part in half-time demonstrations at home and out-of-town games.

The Operetta Guild was formed to stimulate interest in musical comedy productions among the students. Membership may be attained by participation in a guild production as a member of the cast, directing staff, or back-stage crew.

This year, under the capable direction of Doric Alviani, the Operetta Guild presented, to the delight of all students, "Girl Crazy" written by Vincent Youmans, in the Fall, and "Hit the Deck", a Cole Porter production, in the Spring. Both of the comedies were well received by the students.

THE CHORALE

Any mention of the University Chorale always arouses thoughts of great respect and admiration. In true chorale fashion, the University Chorale has given again this year many memorable performances of distinctive arrangements of familiar and unusual songs. These performances, given both on and off campus, have been enjoyed by students and outsiders alike. The songsters, ably selected and directed by Doric Alviani, sang in the Fall operetta, "Girl Crazy", in addition to their regular performances. During Winter Carnival Week, their annual presentation was broadcasted over station WBZ on a program featuring well-known college chorale groups. By such performances the Chorale has won increased admiration by all who know them.

THE UNIVERSITY CHORUS

The University of Massachusetts Savoyards, formerly the University Chorus, presented, in December, the Christmas section of "The Messiah" by Handel, and the "Song of Christmas" by Fred Waring. WACE of Holyoke and WHAI of Greenfield both broadcasted this program. In March, Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore" was presented in quite a unique manner—as a choro-drama, narration taking the place of dialogue.

CHOWDER AND MARCHING SOCIETY

Founded on campus last year by former members of the Deven's Glee Club, the University Chowder and Marching Society has grown rapidly to take its place among the leading musical organizations on campus. The group consists of forty male students and gives several concerts during the school year.

THE ROISTER DOISTERS PRESENTED . . .

The dramatic season of 1948-1949 came to a climactic close with three heart-warming performances of John Van Druten's comedy, "I Remember Mama", with Alice O'Donnell giving an especially genuine and sincere portrayal of Mama.

In September, 1949, the Roister Doisters got under way again, and in October they sponsored a performance by Cornelia Otis Skinner who gave some of her famous monologues. For the November meeting, the group experimented with a reading of scenes from the hilarious comedy, "Sitting Pretty". The first dramatic undertaking of the year was Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream", the first classical presentation at the University under the direction of Professor Arthur Niedeck, Roister Doister adviser and director. The production utilized the Mendelssohn music, and was further embellished with dances by the Modern Dance Group; costumes were designed and executed on campus.

The January highlight of the organization was an informal talk by Professor Curtis Canfield, of the Amherst College Drama Department, on the subject of television.

Winter Carnival Week brought forth the annual Inter-Class Play contest, the Juniors winning first prize for the production of Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey"; the Sophomores took second place with "The Man with the Bowler Hat", and the runners-up were the Seniors with "Parted on Her Wedding Morn", and the Frosh with "Overhead". Alice O'Donnell and Mario Fortunato, both Juniors, were elected best actress and best actor, respectively.

This year a group was organized which was composed of those members of the Roister Doisters who have done outstanding work and who plan to go deeper into the field of the theatre—The University Players. The Victorian thriller, "Angel Street", was their first production. The cast included Doris Carbone, Dan Daley, Alice O'Donnell, Bert Narbis, and Phyllis Cole, and was directed by Mr. Niedeck. Bookings were arranged whereby this play was presented to groups off campus as well as for the students here.

AND THE INTER-CLASS PLAYS

A fine performance by the Junior Class players resulted in their being awarded the first prize for their presentation of "The Happy Journey".

The Seniors' presentation of "Parted on Her Wedding Morn" won them a third prize in the inter-class play competition.

"Overhead" as enacted by members of the Freshmen Class remained in strong contention throughout the evening.

ACADEMIC ACTIVITIES BOARD

Composed of the student business managers of each academic organization, members of the faculty, and faculty alumni representatives, the Academic Activities Board acts to protect the students as well as to guide their activities.

The Board determines financial policies, administrative policies, and also handles the awards of the service insignia.

General policies include finances of all the music groups, publications, and Roister Doisters. A general fund is made available to all authorized campus organizations.

Since there are more student members than faculty members, the students have at least an equal voice in the government of the Board.

STUDENT LIFE

Student Senate

Belville, Davis, Weidhaas, Tarr, Pado, Hill, Corey, Howard, Griffin, Gilmore, Porter, Litsky, Hinds, Stern, Fortin, Westcott, Miller, Moncey, Lawler, Johnson

The Student Senate, elected by popular vote, opens its weekly sessions in the Fall of every year. This undergraduate legislative group prescribes the general rules that govern campus life.

All phases of student affairs are under Senate control. For each division of student activity there is a corresponding committee—Athletic, Student Life, Buildings and Grounds, Boarding Halls, Elections, Finances, Curriculum, Activities, Public Relations, and N.S.A.

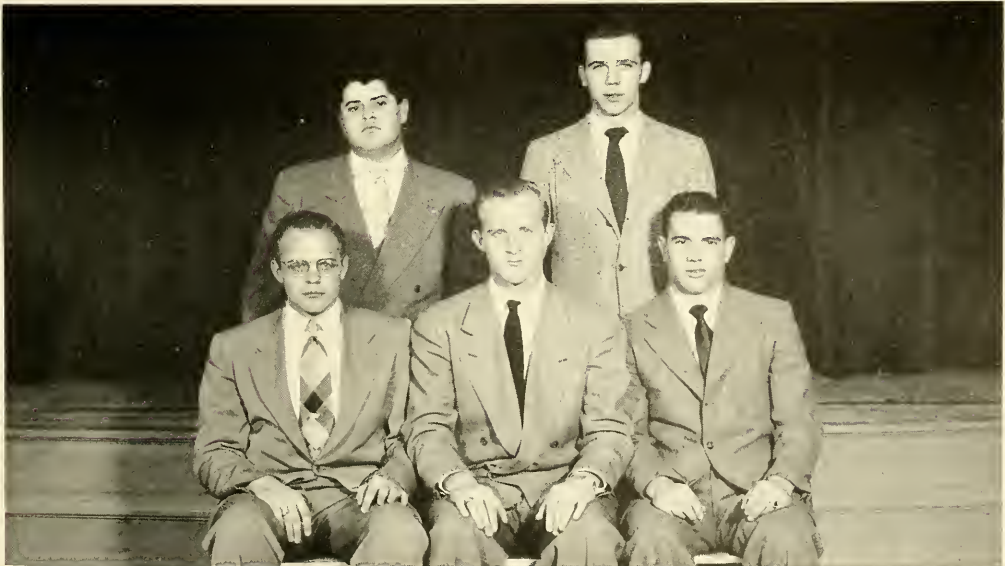

Senators who have a special interest in any of the above divisions volunteer for its respective committee, thus insuring full attention to each phase of University life.

The men's judiciary branch of the University's General Court of Justice consists of five student members. This division, drawn up by the Student Senate, is devised for the purpose of reviewing cases of offense against school law.

The traffic court casts judgment on the various traffic cases brought before it. The General Court reviews laws passed by the Senate and reserves the prerogative to declare them null and void if found to be unconstitutional.

Men's Judiciary Board

Harvey Segal, Robert Vigneau
George Delaney, John McAuliffe, Chief Justice; Edmund Struzziero

Women's Judiciary Board

Patricia Walsh, Jean Ann Lindsay
Lois Rubin, Helen M. Mitchell, Chief Justice; Alice Chorebanian

Composed of and elected by the women students, the Women's Judiciary is a governing body which interprets and enforces those rules which are outside of the jurisdiction of the individual house councils. They also operate in conjunction with the Men's Judiciary at joint sessions held for cases which require constitutional interpretation. The rules and regulations for this women's board are set up by the Student Senate, which also guides any decisions and penalties that the Women's Judiciary may make regarding the misdemeanors of women students living on campus.

Student Life Committee

The University Committee on Student Life, a group composed of eight students and eight faculty members, give suggestions and make regulations regarding the extra-curricular activities of students and student organizations. Student members keep the committee in close contact with undergraduate opinion at all times. The goal of the committee is that of maintaining a proper balance between academic work and social activity.

National Students Association

The function of the National Student Association on this campus is that of liaison between the regional and national levels and the Student Senate by promoting projects in the fields of student life and government, education and educational opportunities, and international affairs.

The program this year has included the sponsorship of the Faculty Talent Show and the partial support of a foreign student.

WMUA

WMUA is the new $10,000 carrier-current radio station at the University. Constructed and operated by students, the station provides an opportunity for undergraduates to gain experience in all phases of radio activity. Announcing classes are conducted weekly in the renovated studios at South College as a part of the station's training program for members of the production, technical, and publicity staffs. Future plans include consolidation and co-ordination of all departments as well as wider and clearer campus reception.

During the past year, lines have been installed connecting the following points to the main studios: Bowker Auditorium, Skinner and Memorial Halls, Old Chapel, the Cage, the Drill Hall, and the Athletic Field. Furthermore, the radio stations of Smith and Amherst Colleges have joined with WMUA to form the Pioneer Broadcasting System. This collegiate network, the only one of its kind in the nation, enables a member station to transmit a program simultaneously to all three campuses by means of connecting telephone lines.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Hillel Foundation is dedicated to provide for the religious needs as well as for the cultural and social needs of those of Jewish faith. Highlighted by Friday evening services, it carries out various programs, including those of informal discussions and forums, holiday celebrations, and Sunday morning "Brunches." There are classes in Hebrew and philosophy, and at these there are usually prominent speakers.

NEWMAN CLUB

Bi-weekly meetings, speakers, movies, discussions, a bowling league, a communion breakfast, and National Newman Club Day were the highlights of the University's Newman Club this past year. This club is organized to enrich the religious, intellectual, and social life of the Catholic students; and, under the direction of Father David Power and the hard working officers, it has truly reached its goal.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year the Student Christian Association has adopted a new way of promoting friendship and aid to students. Every Sunday evening, informal discussions are held on topics pertaining to religion and everyday life.

Vespers and choir, the joint council held by six different colleges, and "Scam" (the monthly publication) are among the activities of S.C.A.

I. Z. F. A.

Since the establishment of the Jewish state in Palestine, I.Z.F.A. has turned all its efforts to the further strengthening of this state. This year the organization undertook many activities: that of host to a seminar of the New England region, an appearance before the International Club, and the presentation of "Cafe Tel-Aviv".

LUTHERAN CLUB

Since its formation last year, the Lutheran Club has steadily increased in membership and activities, the latter including guest speakers and visiting ministers. The organization meets on the second and last Thursday of each month. At this time, round table discussions are often held.

JUDSON FELLOWSHIP

University of Massachusetts and Amherst College students meet each Sunday evening at the local Baptist church. Suppers, a good drawing card for any student organization, start each meeting. Movies, speakers, or forums follow, and bring the religious and moral questions of today's society into focus.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation is one of the religious clubs here on campus. It is composed of those members of the Methodist denomination who wish to get together and hold discussions, listen to lectures, and hold a social gathering now and then.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Formed for the purpose of better understanding foreign countries, the International Club has as members the foreign students on campus and many other students who show a keen interest in such an activity. With the foreign students presiding, each meeting is dedicated to a different country. One such meeting was a "Night In India", at which Indian food and dancing was displayed.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Composed of both foreign and American students, this club serves the useful function of promoting international goodwill and understanding among its members.

This year, the various national groups presented entertaining programs representative of their native lands. These included a Latin American and an Indian night in which films and native delicacies were enjoyed. The American members depicted some of the customs of Hawaii in a unique program featuring actual Hawaiian dancing.

POLITICAL UNION

The Political Union Club was organized but a year ago; yet today it has grown to the full stature of a club which might have only after several years of existence attained such maturity.

Discussion of questions of political import highlights the club's activities. Adhering to no party or particular school of thought, the club invites to its meetings many prominent political leaders of quite diverse interests.

WIPUO

Special opportunities for practical experience in radio as well as for the obtaining of "ham" licenses are the offerings available to members of WIPUO.

This year, members were ever ready to set up emergency communications if the need for such arose in the vicinity. Actual broadcasting was carried out from time to time. Plans for the future include provision for more equipment and better facilities.

DEMOLAY

The first college DeMolay Club in New England, this two year old organization has provided opportunity for further fellowship among former high school members of the Order of DeMolay.

Meeting twice monthly, members participated in active discussions and enjoyed movies. Field trips to some of the local high school chapters recalled many a poignant memory.

4-H CLUB

To work with "head, heart, hand, and health".

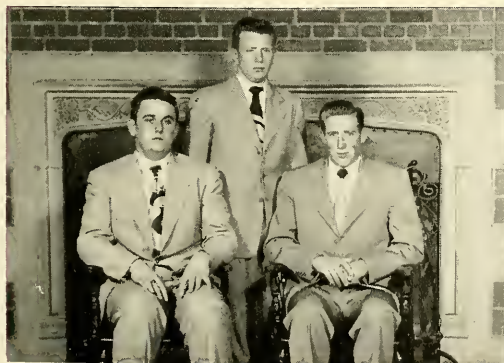

Thursday evening of each week brought 4-H Club members together in Farley Club House for an evening of old-fashioned square dancing.

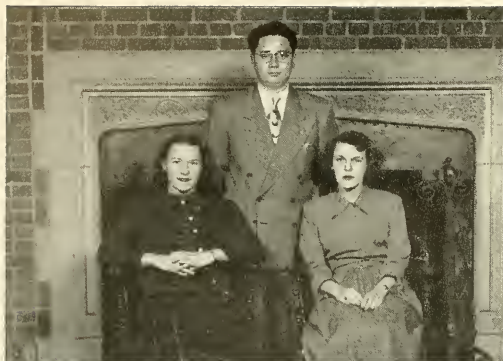

Various joint meetings with other state 4-H organizations as well as public square dances were among the other activities of the Club.

BALL AND CHAIN CLUB

Are you a past master of the art of washing dishes, testing the temperature of babies' bottle, hanging out the little things, "ad infinitum?" If so then you would probably qualify for membership in the Ball and Chain Club which is organized for the solace and, of course, the discussion of the problems of the married men on campus.

STUDENTS' WIVES ORGANIZATION

The Students' Wives Association is organized by and for the wives of students. It promotes recreation and activities for themselves and their families.

Parties, dances, and craft clubs offer opportunities for relaxation, friendship, and an active community life.

In addition to these social events, regular meetings of the organization are held.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

This organization, the members of which are all home economics majors, took part in many varied activities, all of which were designed to augment the students' academic course. Parties for children were staged, under the guidance of the club's advisor, Mrs. Thies. The Flower-Fashion Show, as in the past, was presented by a group, in cooperation with the Floriculture Club.

AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS CLUB

The members of the Agricultural Economic Club meet once a week to discuss economic problems of the past, present, and future that may face today's farmer. The practical application of the Law of Diminishing Return or Department of Agriculture bulletins, designed to enhance the farmer's work, are prime topics for the club.

AGRONOMY CLUB

The Agronomy Club is primarily devoted to promoting student interest in soils and crops. All undergraduates in agronomy are eligible to join the American Society of Agronomy. The club, as a group of sixteen members, has not yet joined. However, it is hoped that in the near future, the club, because of its increasing development, will become a member of this society.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY CLUB

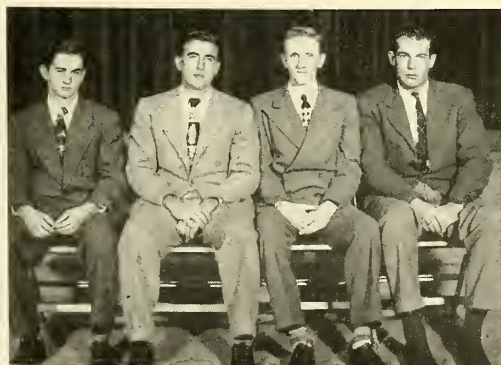

Annually, the Animal Husbandry Club sponsors the "Little International Livestock Show" and the "Dairy Classic" to promote better livestock husbandry. Students at the University as well as many people from all parts of the state attend the show.

The Harvest Ball which is held annually by the club was a huge success this year.

In its efforts to promote interest in the dairy industry, the Dairy Club hold regular meetings with interesting speakers. These speakers who represent the modern dairy industry discuss topics pertinent to new methods and developments. Active discussions with student participation increase student interest.

DAIRY CLUB

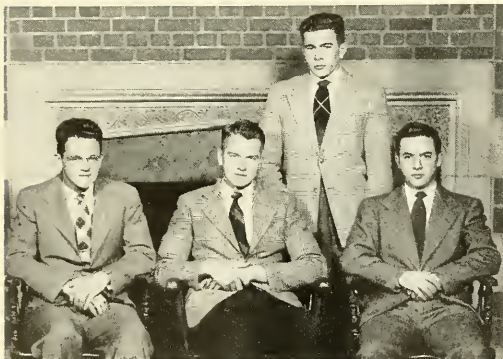

The local chapter of the Future Farmers of America, completing another active year, sponsored many judging contests and several secondary school banquets, in addition to its regularly scheduled program of lectures by students, professors, and guest speakers.

With such varied program of activities and events, the FFA was successful in stimulating the interests of former high school members of the FFA and of students of vocational agriculture.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Food Tech Club, organized for those interested in the problems and phases of food technology, did not experience an active year due to a late start. However, many of the members attended various conferences and conventions, perhaps the most well attended being the National Canners Convention in Atlantic City in January. Among the speakers at the meetings were Dr. Gallisio, who spoke on commercial manufacture of wine, and Mr. Cole whose topic was repackaging.

FLORICULTURE CLUB

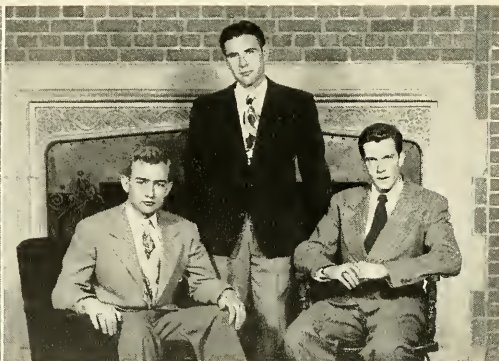

The members of the Floriculture Club were very fortunate this year in hearing several guest speakers at their monthly meetings who gave them helpful hints concerning the intricacies of both retail and wholesale floral business. The efforts of the Club were displayed on such occasions as the Horticulture Show and the Annual Flower Style Show.

FORESTRY CLUB

Now in its second year of activity, the Forestry Club has proved its worth, offering to its members lectures, discussions, and field trips. Membership is open to University and Stockbridge students who are majoring in Forestry and Wildlife Management. One of the major activities of the club is participation in the annual Horticultural Show in the fall.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE CLUB

Educational and social development are provided for the membership in the Landscape Architecture Club. The educational phase has, this past year, received the most stress. Speakers on various phases of landscape architecture are invited to the meetings to inform the students what to expect in their field after graduation. Architects are invited to correlate, for the student, architecture and landscape architecture.

OLERICULTURE CLUB

Since its inception two years ago, the Olericulture Club has progressed to the point where it is now a well-established campus organization. Membership is open to all University and Stockbridge students interested in vegetable culture and its various allied fields. Throughout the year the Club enjoyed many fine speakers as well as interesting movies on all phases of the industry.

POMOLOGY CLUB

Throughout the last year, the Pomology Club has aimed to maintain and to stimulate even further an active interest in pomology and its related subjects. With the aid of lectures by prominent speakers and of discussions by the students on all topics relating to pomology, the officers of the organization have been able to fulfill the aim of the organization.

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB

Men proficient in some phase of the poultry industry are present at each meeting of the Poultry Club to enable the students to acquire information for their future work. Both Stockbridge and four-year students are brought together for the lectures and informal discussions. A banquet, bringing the activities of the year to a close, is held each spring.

BACTERIOLOGY CLUB

A greater knowledge of the fields of research, medical technology, and public health is promoted at the monthly meetings of the Bacteriology Club. This is accomplished through movies pertaining to some phase of bacteriology, and by listening to speakers who are prominent in these fields. The meetings are highly successful in improving relations between the faculty and students in the department.

PRE-MEDICAL CLUB

Those students at the University who are interested in the field of medical science keep themselves posted on the technical developments within this field through the medium of the Pre-Medical Club. The problem of entering various medical schools and the progress of medicine in the world today are among the topics discussed at the meetings.

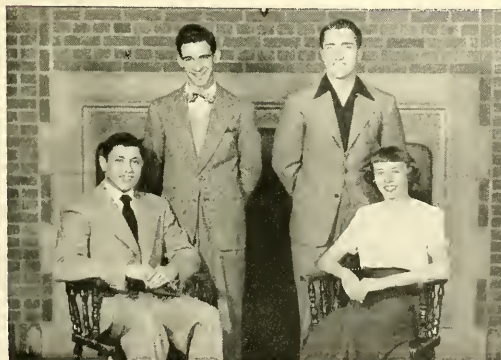

PRE-VETERINARY CLUB

Because of the difficulties encountered by Pre-Vets who wish to matriculate at veterinary schools, the students here at the University who plan to enter this field have banded together to consolidate what information each may accumulate separately. Other activities of this club are few, since facilities here are limited.

Last year, with the establishment of the School of Business Administration, the students majoring and interested in this field organized and set up the Business Administration Club. The purpose of the organization is to further the name and prestige of the School, and to aid the students in becoming acquainted with the men and women already established in the business world.

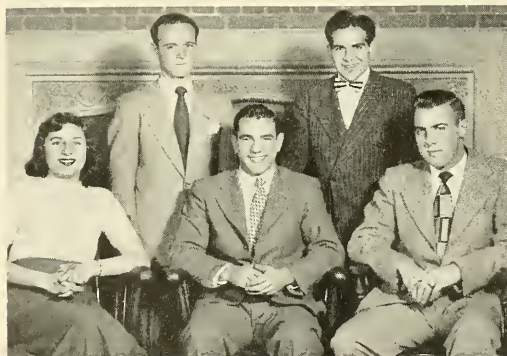

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION CLUB

The furthering of scientific interest is the main purpose of the Chemistry Club. At the monthly meetings, prominent speakers talk on such subjects as biochemistry, analytical work in industry, and ultrasonics. The club activities were not restricted to the serious side, however, for a successful dance, co-sponsored with the Home Economics Club, and a banquet highlighted the year's social program.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

One of the most informal yet beneficial clubs on campus is the Education Club. It is composed, for the most, of those students who are education majors or minors. Meetings are held several times a semester, and at these there is invariably a prominent speaker. The qualifications necessary for teaching and the probability of getting such a position are typical of the subjects presented.

Widening the technical and non-technical perspective of the young engineer is the aim of the Engineering Club. The various engineering groups each provided comprehensive lectures and movies in their respective fields dealing with such topics as wind tunnels, quality control in production processes, and lubricating oils. As a noteworthy addition to its other achievements the club has established the Engineering Alumni Scholarship Fund.

ENGINEERING CLUB

This year the French Club carried on a very active program for its members. Guest speakers included Jeffrey Atkinson speaking on Balzac, and four French Amherst College students who spoke on first impressions of the United States. The Christmas pageant and the play "Le Petit Prince" presented in March, and the annual Spring picnic completed the year.

FRENCH CLUB

Topics of mathematical interest which ranged from the concept of infinity to indeterminant equations were discussed in individual speeches by members during first semester meetings of the Math Club.

Second semester brought guest speakers, some of them former graduates of the University now working in the field of mathematics. Efforts to combine meetings with those of nearby colleges proved successful.

NATURE GUIDE CLUB

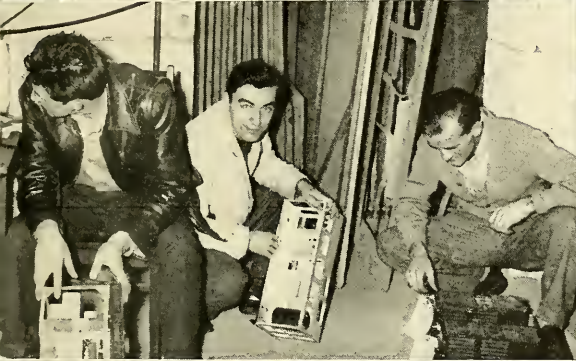

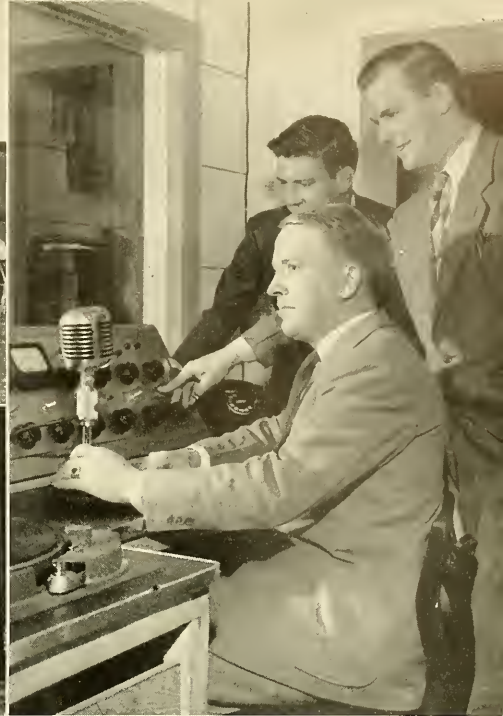

The Nature Guide Club is organized for the purpose of acquainting members with the benefits that can be derived from active participation in outdoor recreation. Highlights of the club activities included presentation of Kodachromes taken by members on summer vacations, a successful Christmas Party attended by many former club graduates, a cooking expedition to the Rifle Range, and a sugaring party held early in March.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

This year, meetings of the Psychology Club have been highlighted by discussions on various phases of psychology. Some of the speakers and topics were the following: Dr. W. W. Wallace (of the guidance department), "measured and expressed interests"; Dr. Holt of Westboro State Hospital, who discussed psychotherapy in state hospitals; and Miss Jean Carl of Smith College, who discussed current research in child psychology.

SOCIETY OF INTERCOLLEGIATE NOETICS

The Society of Intercollegiate Noetics (SIN) was formed by a few individuals who found that they took their chief delight in talking about and occasionally listening to some of the eternal unsolved problems of life. "Ever since, we have been talking away the hours, cerebrating diligently, finding no solutions, and essentially discovering only the abysmal depths of our ignorance."

"LUCKLESS LORDENMEN"

A 5-10 record and another rough season were behind him as Coach Earl Lorden completed his second year as baseball head. At least Coach Lorden had the consolation of having his team show a marked improvement over the dismal 1948 record. With a little luck, the team could have sported a winning record for a change, since five of the ten losses were by only a one-run margin.

All is not lost, however. Coach Lorden will have his whole team back next year, and with this year of experience behind them, they should improve considerably.

Don Costello, Marty Anderson, and Al Norskey were the outstanding players over the course of the season. Costello was awarded the Thompson Trophy, annually given to the most valuable player on the team, for his fine hitting and defensive play in center field. He was also elected to captain the 1950 team.

ONWARD TO GLORY

NORTHEASTERN EDGES REDMEN, 2-1

Marty Anderson started the season for the Lordenmen with a superb four-hitter, but lost the game in the 10th on a walk and a costly error. Big Bill Winn provided the big stick for the day with three for three.

CONNECTICUT 4, MASSACHUSETTS 2

The Redmen drew first blood in the top of the second with two runs; but the lead was shortlived, however, as costly errors paved the way for the team's second defeat.

PURPLE DECOLORED, 3-1

Sparked by Don Costello who came up with two timely hits, one R.B.I., and two runs scored, and Marty Anderson who twirled a four-hitter coupled with nine strikeouts, the Redmen gained their first triumph of the season.

ANDERSON WINS ANOTHER, 2-1

Southpaw Marty Anderson hurled the Maroon and White to their second victory of the year, two New Hampshire miscues in the 12th helping the team to its first Yankee Conference win.

MIDDIES SINK LORDENMEN, 3-2

Chuck Taugher did a very creditable job on the mound, but two bad throws by catcher Arnie Pinto in the 13th allowed the tie-breaking run to score.

DEVENS OUTSLUGS MASSACHUSETTS, 10-9

In a thrilling slugfest, the Devens Chiefs outscored the Lordenmen in a hard-fought, well-played game. The flashy shortstop playing of Ed Maloney of Devens, and the great stickwork of Don Costello, who had four solid hits, were the game's outstanding features.

COMRADES FOREVER

MARTY MARTYRED, 2-1

Marty Anderson had one bad inning, the second, and that cost him the ball game. The Maroon and White picked up their lone tally in the seventh on successive hits by Ty King and Marty.

TRINITY WINS, 5-3

A few costly fielding lapses lost the game for the Lordenmen. Trinity picked up three unearned runs in the very first frame and were never headed. Norskey and Moriarty had perfect days at the plate, but to no avail.

MASSACHUSETTS TOPS TECH, 11-9

Outscoring the Engineers in a wild slugfest, the Maroon and White gained their third triumph in ten starts. "Tough Luck" Marty came in in the seventh to save the day for Red Winton.

Our inner defense

CATAMOUNTS CAGED, 5-2

Another four-hitter for Marty, and another Yankee Conference win for the Lordenmen. In addition to Andy's hurling, Don Costello played great ball, being both the offensive and defensive star of the game.

Safe by a mile!

RHODE ISLAND 9, MASSACHUSETTS 4

Rhode Island went on a base stealing spree and stole ten bases against the hapless Redmen. Again, the offense for Massachusetts centered around Costello, with Gagnon getting two hits.

REDMEN ROUT WESLEYAN, 10-4

Banging out 11 hits, and tiring out three Wesleyan pitchers, the Lordenmen won a sweet victory, as Norskey led the attack with three hits.

JUMBOS DEFEAT LORDENMEN, 6-3

The Jumbos were entitled to this victory, being the first U.M. opponent all year that was able to hit Marty Anderson freely.

MASSACHUSETTS MASSACRED, 12-4

With seven errors officially listed and several more of omission, Massachusetts, giving its worst exhibition of the year, was soundly trounced by the Gymnasts.

SPRINGFIELD 6, MASSACHUSETTS, 5

Although outhitting Springfield 11 to 4 before an Alumni Day crowd, the Luckless Lordenmen went down to their tenth defeat of the year. Again, it was loose defensive playing that led to another humiliating defeat.

Here comes the pitch . . .

DERBYMEN LACK DEPTH

The outclassed but not outspirited Spring track team ended a rather dismal season with a 1-4 record. With the exception of the two-mile run, there was a lack of depth in all events. Such stalwarts as Hal Fienman, Whitey Cossar, Walt Szetela, and Ray Willis, however, were outstanding throughout the season. The Varsity Club Plaque was awarded to sity of Connecticut by a score of 98 to 37. Connecticut placed first in fourteen of the fifteen events. The lone winner for the Derbymen was Fienman with the shot put.

Hal Fienman for his fine performances with the shot put. Hal was high scorer for Massachusetts with 57 points. Damon Phinney presented the strongest lineup of any event, being consistent throughout the season, and picking up many valuable points.

WILLIAMS OUTCLASSES DERBYMEN

A strong Williams squad swamped Massachusetts, 101½ to 33½. It was the same story as the Connecticut meet, as Fienman was the only U. of M. winner. The majority of the remaining points were captured by the strong efforts of the mile and two-mile teams.

BAY STATERS TRAMPLED BY TRINITY

Massachusetts won five events against the Trinity College track team with Whitey Cossar becoming the first double winner of the season with wins in the one-half and one-mile runs.

78¾ to 47¼ was the score of the fourth meet with Hal Fienman being the biggest point getter with eleven. The two mile team, composed of Pierce, Szetela, and Phinney finished in a dead heat for the first place.

DEVENS VICTIMIZED BY REDMEN

The Derbymen ended their season on a victorious note with a decisive win over Devens, 91 to 44. Our track and field entries took first in all of the events. Willis and Fienman led the tracksters with three wins each to their credit.

Hal Fienman was the only entry in the Eastern Intercollegiate Meet, placing second in the shotput, one-half inch short of the first place mark.

The Spring of 1949 produced a rather mediocre varsity tennis team, as evidenced by their 5-5 record. Captain Wilfred Beauregard was awarded the Paul Sears Putnam trophy which is presented annually to the tennis player who, by his ability as an athlete and a scholar, has brought credit to his college and his team. In addition, Brown, Cleverly, and Lovelace performed creditably in both the doubles and singles matches in which they competed.

The University of Massachusetts soccer team ended the 1949 season with a record of four wins, five losses, and one tie. The season's highlight was the game against our cross-town rival, Amherst College. A determined, fighting Redman team came up with a well-deserved 1-1 tie, inflicting the only blemish on their opponent's record. Co-Captains Arlindo George and John Winton were honored by being selected on the All-New England Intercollegiate League team, the former as the left-fullback, while Winton received honorable mention at center-forward.

THE 'BIG FOUR' RUN THEIR LAST MILE

The cross-country season of 1949 marks the finale of the cross-country careers of four of the best runners ever to sport the maroon and white of a Massachusetts team—Louie Clough, Whitey Cossar, Ed Pierce, and Ed Funkhouser, otherwise known as the 'Big Four'.

The team ended the season with a record of three victories and three defeats in dual competition, a lack of reserve strength hurting them considerably.

Northeastern and the Engineers of Worcester Tech were the first two meets and the first two victims of the Derbymen by scores of 25-33 and 18-45, respectively.

Williams and M.I.T., the third and fourth meets, resulted in the first and second defeats for the Massachusetts harriers. The scores were respectively 25-29 and 26-31.

Harvard College fell victim to Massachusetts in a decisive victory in Boston (21 to 34), with Louie leading the way as usual.

The last dual meet of the Derbymen resulted in their third defeat, as the Vermont Catamounts whipped them in a driving rain, 24 to 35.

In the Connecticut Valley meet, the Massachusetts harriers trailed the field, but only a few points separated first-place Connecticut from last-place Massachusetts.

The Derbymen went on to finish seventh in a field of fourteen in the New England Intercollegiate meet in Boston—Louie and Whitey running strong races, finishing in the sixth and eleventh positions.

The season ended with the I. C. 4A meet in New York. Massachusetts finished seventeenth in a field of thirty, beating such strong teams as Pitt, Columbia and Dartmouth.

MASSACHUSETTS

Although Coach Tom Eck and the entire student body foresaw a successful season because of the return of last years' lettermen and the appearance of new Deven's transfers, bad breaks in the last half of the season brought about a record of three wins and five losses. The squad was full of spirit at the start, but spirit alone could not win the last few games.

REDMEN WHITEWASH BATES

The season started very auspiciously when the Redmen travelled to Auburn, Maine, to trample Bates under the arcs, 19-0. Ed Struzziero, Marty Anderson, and Ev Johnston scored the Massachusetts touchdowns, while Russ Beaumont's passing sparkled. The U. of M. gridsters also held their supremacy on the ground as they completely outrushed and outcharged the heavier Bobcats.

MASSACHUSETTS TRAMPLES HORSEMEN

At Alumni Field, before a capacity crowd, the favored University eleven opened their home season by crushing hapless Norwich, 54-0, under the scintillating leadership of Marty Anderson and the accurate heaves of Beaver Beaumont. The Horsemen, never in the game were completely outplayed as the Redmen, led by a 60 yard run by McManus and two touchdowns by Hurdling Hal Fienman, gained sweet revenge for last year's upset. Co-captain Bob Pasini was tremendous as he kept his team undefeated, untied, and unscored upon.

ENGINEERS SURPRISE ECKMEN

Journeying to Worcester Tech's Alumni Field, the favored Eckmen suffered a stunning defeat by the underdog Engineers, 7-6. The Tech team scored early in the second half on a costly fumble and then held on to win. In the final four minutes a 50 yard pass from Beaumont to Looney and a lateral to Anderson produced the only score for Massachusetts. The all-important extra point was blocked by a charging Engineer as time ran out, and the Redmen suffered their first defeat of the year.

REDMEN WRECK RHODE ISLAND

At Alumni Field, before an enthusiastic crowd, the Redmen bounced back from their upset defeat by W.P.I. and wrecked R.I. State, 32-19. Led by the pin-point passing of Jack Benoit and Russ Beaumont, the Bay Staters struck fast and hard to lead 19-6 at half-time. The team added another tally in the third period, and both squads exchanged scores in the final minutes of play.

YELLOWJACKETS STING REDMEN

Before a capacity Homecoming Day throng, the alert University of Rochester spotted the U.M. gridsters two early touchdowns and then came roaring back to take the lead and go on to win 27-20. The Redmen scored early on a Johnston-to-Roth pass and a Fienman plunge. Late in the game our team countered again on a Beaumont-to-Doherty aerial. The team's noticeable lack of pass defense cost us the game as the Yellowjackets scored three touchdowns on long aerals. Co-captain Ed Struzziero, recovering from an injury suffered earlier in the season, served as an inspiration to a team that fought back gallantly, but against overwhelming odds.

CATAMOUNTS CLAW BAY STATERS

Travelling to Burlington, Vermont, the underdog Redmen tried to repeat last year's victory, but went down to their second straight defeat, 20-12; the third of the season. The Catamounts jumped off to an early 12-0 lead by taking advantage of our weak pass defense. The Bay Staters fought back courageously on a plunge by sophomore speedster Jack Benoit. In the second half, despite a terrific 50 yard run by McManus, the Green Mountain boys took a 20-6 lead. The Redmen, fighting against time, filled the air with passes. Bill Looney finally speared a long one from Russ Beaumont and scored standing up. Time ran out as the extra point failed.

GYMNASTS JUMP ON REDMEN

Before an avidly partisan crowd at Springfield, the Redmen suffered their third straight loss as the Gymnasts held them scoreless while racking up 22 points. Marty Anderson provided the only offensive spark for U.M. on a dreary afternoon.

The 1949 football season closed on a very disappointing note as the Redmen bowed 27-7, to their nemises, Tufts, before a spirited crowd. The Eckmen raised the hopes of the Massachusetts rooters when they jumped off to a 7-0 lead on a long pass from Russ Beaumont to Marty Anderson, who made a spectacular catch and a beautiful 22 yard run to score. Our arch rivals roared back to pass and run their way to an easy victory despite the gallant attempts of the Massachusetts defenders to stem the tide. Co-captains Ed Struzziero and Bob Pasini played brilliantly in their last game, while Hal Fienman's loss to the team due to injury was undoubtedly a serious setback.

Absorbing a 24-7 loss at the hands of Wesleyan, the University of Massachusetts Jayvee football team found themselves ringing down the 1949 season with a record of no wins and four losses. The team was outscored in each of its encounters, but was never outfought.

Opening against a strong Mt. Hermon Academy team, the Redmen found themselves ending up on the short end of a 13-7 score. Trinity College, a powerhouse in small college athletics, next trimmed the Massmen 20-0, and in a hardfought game, Massachusetts trailed Springfield 7-0 at the finish.

Showing a marked improvement over last year, the varsity basketball team compiled an 8-9 record, with six wins in seven starts at home. Thus, the student body had plenty to cheer about. Hitting their ups and downs all year, the Redmen played a superb brand of ball to come up with the great upset victories over Connecticut and Tufts. As a reward for their improved play in the last few games, the Ballmen were chosen to participate in the N.A.I.B. tournament at New Britain, Connecticut.

The University cagers opened their 1949-1950 season on an auspicious note as they surged from behind to defeat Northeastern—39-30. Led by Bill Prevey, who scored 14 points, the team took the lead early in the last period and were never headed. Prevey dunked in 9 points in the last eight minutes to put the game on ice.

TECH NIPS MASSACHUSETTS

Despite the efforts of Sophomore Bill Prevey, who scored 17 points, and Captain Ray Gagnon, who played a great game, the Redmen lost their first game of the year to a strong Worcester Tech quintet—54-50. The Engineers jumped off to an early 13-6 lead, and were headed only once during the game. Although the basketekers, led by Ed McCauley, tried to overcome a 37-32 deficit, the Tech team managed to hold on to win.

DISMAL NEW YEAR'S FOR BALL MEN

Travelling to Maine over the holiday, the Bay Staters dropped their second straight game to a capable University of Maine team—53-45. The Redmen jumped off to an early 5-0 lead, but their Yankee Conference rivals came surging back to gain and hold a comfortable margin for the remainder of the game. Ed McCauley regained his old wizardry as he swished through 18 points to provide a bright spot in the game.

CAGERS CRUSH CLARK

Before a partisan crowd at the Cage, the Redmen romped to an easy win over a futile Clark quintet—59-45. Led by Prevey, McCauley, and Gagnon, who all hit double figures, the Redmen held Clark scoreless for 17 minutes, then breezed in to a well-deserved victory. The win returned the University team to a .500 average with a 2-2 record.

REDMEN ROLL

The Massachusetts basketball team made it two in a row as they held back a determined Middlebury team—48-39. With the lead rapidly changing hands, the U.M. quintet finally stepped out in front early in the fourth period, and managed to forestall the Middies attack. Captain Ray Gagnon was high scorer for the night with 20 points, closely followed by Bill Prevey who hit 18.

MASSACHUSETTS CORRALS CADETS

The University basketeters garnered their third win in a row and fourth in six starts as they whipped Norwich—37-28. Both teams proved rather helpless before the basket, but the Redmen somehow managed to outscore their opponents to gain the victory. Scoring honors for the evening were split between McCauley, Gagnon, and Prevey, whose combined total of 25 almost equalled the Norwich score.

TRINITY BREAKS REDMEN STREAK

A towering Trinity quintet set the Massmen back on their heels before a packed Cage—56-40. The Bantams took the lead early in the first period, romping to victory and halting the University winning streak at three. High man for the night was Ed McCauley who threw in ten points. The Redmen, unable to overcome the height handicap, were never really in the ball game.

MASSACHUSETTS UPSETS CONNECTICUT

In a thrilling game before a highly partisan crowd, the University cagers nosed out a heavily favored UConn team—61-57. Sparked by the brilliant playing of Captain Ray Gagnon, who poured in 22 points, the Redmen took the lead early in the second period, and, despite heavy pressure by the Storrs-men in the last three minutes of play, managed to eke out a well-merited win.

WILDCATS CLAW REDMEN

Suffering a letdown from the UConn game, and tired after a gruelling road trip, the University quintet dropped their fourth game in nine starts to a strong New Hampshire team. Led by high scorer Bill Prevey, who tallied 17 points, the Massmen courageously fought to overcome a 5 point deficit, but all in vain as the Wildcats turned on a surge of power to clinch it. Captain Ray Gagnon turned in a fine defensive game, accounting for ten points.

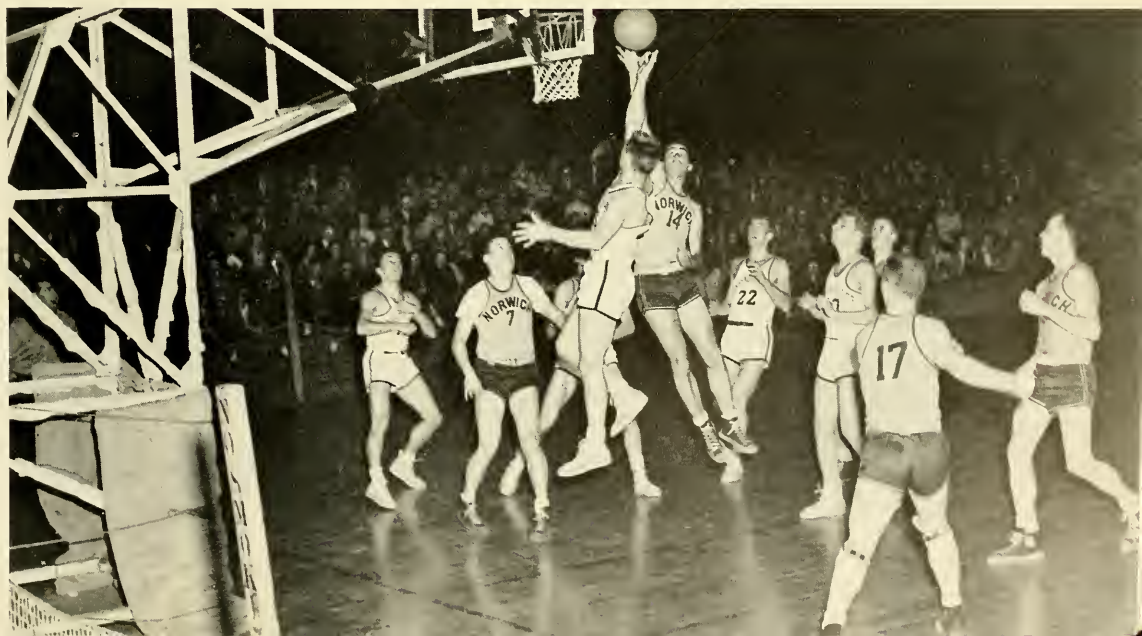

CARDINALS GIVE MASSMEN THE BIRD

In their last outing before vacation, the Massachusetts quintet fought back from a 12 point deficit only to lose in the final minute of play—60-58. Sparked by the brilliant play of Hal Ostman and Bill Prevey, each of whom scored 16 points, the Redmen played a great brand of ball, but were behind for most of the game as the Wesleyan team turned in a superlative performance.

YELLOWJACKETS STING MASSACHUSETTS

Despite 19 points by pace-setter Bill Prevey, the Massachusetts varsity was unable to cope with the attack of a powerful, undefeated Rensselaer quintet and bowed 55-46. R.P.I. pulled away to an early lead, and easily romped in to victory as they checked all Massachusetts offensive threats. Ray Gunn, who entered the game in the last quarter, turned in an excellent exhibition of defensive play.

RHODE ISLAND RAMS REDMEN

Once again Bill Prevey provided the only scoring threat for Massachusetts as he poured in 25 points (high for the year), but Rhode Island rolled through a foul-ridden game to an easy victory—76-66. Our Yankee Conference foes gradually pulled ahead to a 20 point lead and were never headed. McCauley and Ostman also hit the double figures for the losers.

WILLIAMS STUNS MAROON AND WHITE

Despite the efforts of Bill Prevy, who hooped 19 points, the University quintet blew a 7 point lead in the third quarter to lose to a sharp William's five—60-54. With the lead rapidly changing hands, Williams seemed to click under last minute pressure and forged on to win. Massachusetts partisans took hope when Ostmen (who hit for 14 points) and McCauley (for 11 points) combined with Prevey to stage a last minute drive that unfortunately fell short.

BALLMEN SINK COAST GUARD

Breaking a four game losing streak, the Redmen trimmed a Coast Guard Academy quintet—59-44. Leading 23-16 at half-time, the Redmen slackened and the Guardsmen pulled up to a 26-26 tie. Then, Bill Prevey broke loose for a total of 23 points, Gannon accounted for 15; and Ed McCauley dropped in 12 points, giving the University its 6th win in 14 starts.

REDMEN CLAW CATAMOUNTS

Before a capacity Winter Carnival crowd, the Redmen took the lead early in the first period to rack up their 7th win of the season 65-57. In this game, the scoring honors were pretty well split as Prevey hit for 17, Ray Gagnon 15, McCauley 12, and Ostman 10. Excellent defensive performers were Bob Johnston and Ray Gunn.

SPRINGFIELD DUNKS MASSMEN

Taking advantage of their superior height, and effectively bottling up high scorer Bill Prevey, the Springfield five rolled to an easy win over the Ballmen—48-38. The Gymnasts took the lead early in the game and were never headed as they completely controlled the backboards. Ray Gagnon was high scorer for the losers with 19 points.

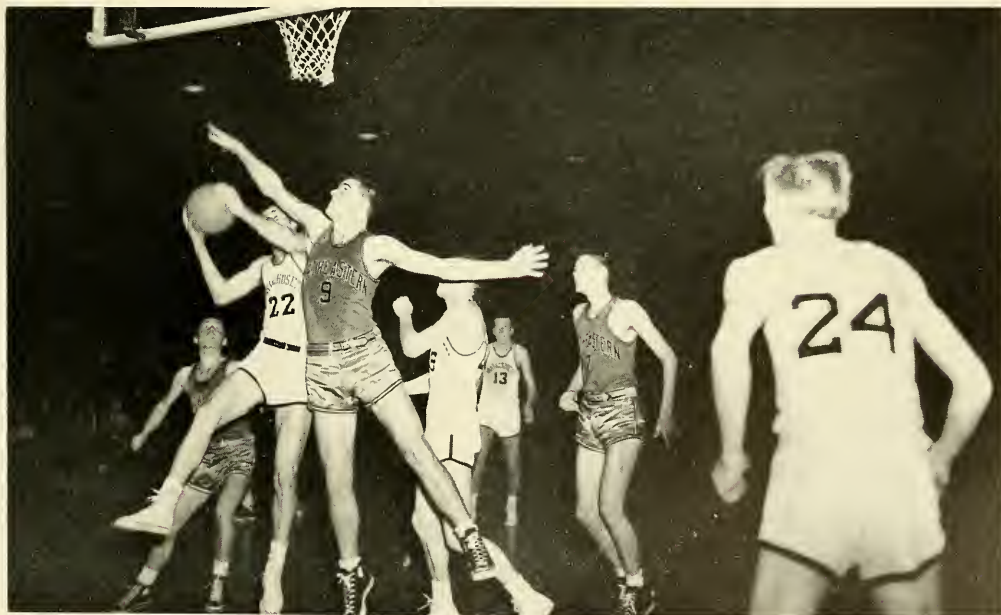

REDMEN END SEASON BRILLIANTLY

Before a capacity crowd, the University quintet stunned a Tufts team (undefeated in 12 straight games)—53-51. Sparked by the playing of Captain Ray Gagnon (15 points), Ed McCauley (14 points), and Bill Prevey (13 points), the Redmen surged back from a 17 point deficit in the third period to win as Gagnon dropped through the winning basket in the last seconds of play.

SWIMMING

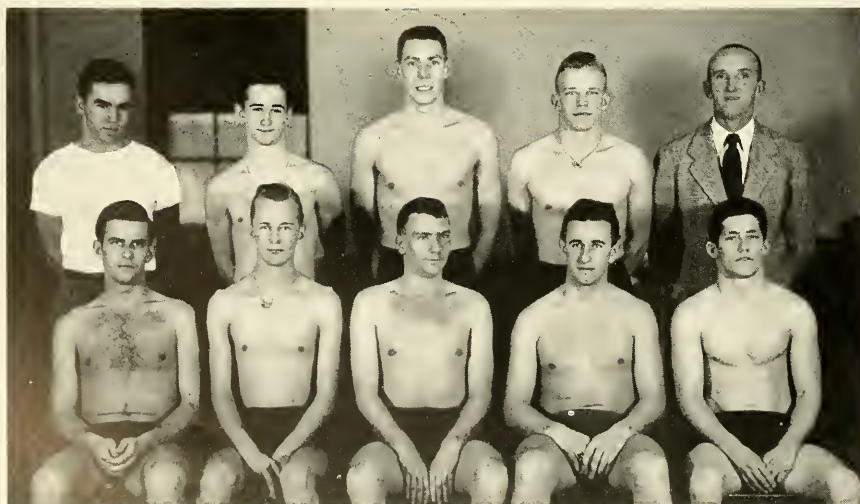

A graceful back swan . . .

In a season that was highlighted by the appearance at the University pool of the champion La Salle College swimming team, the University of Massachusetts swimmers recorded two victories in a nine meet slate. Both Worcester Tech and Boston University went down to defeat at the hands of the Rogersmen.

La Salle, who snapped the Rogersmen's two meet winning streak, was paced to victory by Olympic ace Joe Verdeur. Our own team was sparked all season by the fine performances of Captain Ben Merritt and Mitch Jacques. Although losing this year's captain, the mermen will have most of the squad returning next year.

The indoor track with its abbreviated season of four dual meets did not fare too well, losing successively to Holy Cross, Connecticut, and Northeastern before gaining a tie with Worcester Tech in the season's finale.

The Derbymen showed a lack of depth in some of their running events, but the field events led by Hal Fienman in the shotput, Ed Molitoris in the hammer, and Don Stowe in the pole vault, were consistently strong, picking up many points. Al Carter in the dashes and hurdles was brilliant in all four meets, emerging the leading point-getter for the Derbymen.

Opening their season in Boston before a crowd at the Arena, the Varsity Hockey team was swamped by a powerful Northeastern sextet, 14-1. Despite the fact that the Redmen had had only one practice session on ice before the game, they held Northeastern to a 3-1 lead for half of the game. However, the Huskies' practice and superb condition proved too much for the Fitzgeraldmen in the second half, and Northeastern ran away with the game.

MASSACHUSETTS 5, AMHERST 5

Outplaying a strong Amherst team throughout the game, the Massachusetts hockey team failed to take advantage of a two-goal lead and were forced to be satisfied with a 5-5 tie. Goalie Ed Frydryck stopped flying pucks from all directions, but couldn't make the one save that counted.

NEW HAMPSHIRE 5, MASSACHUSETTS 4

In a closely contested game, the Varsity Hockey team came from behind three times to tie the score in regulation play. In a sudden death overtime, Roche slipped one by the New Hampshire goalie, wrapping up the game, 5-4.

MASSACHUSETTS 4, SPRINGFIELD 4

Despite a slow start, the Maroon and White came from behind to take the lead against a heavily favored Springfield sextet. Unable to stand the prosperity, the team weakened and was forced to settle for a 4-4 tie.

MIDDLEBURY 9, MASSACHUSETTS 5

Massachusetts, playing on very fast natural ice, saw Middlebury jump off to an early four goal lead in the first ten minutes of play. The University sextet rallied, keeping up with the Middies for the rest of the game, but couldn't overcome the lead and went down to defeat, 9 to 5. Bill Burns played an outstanding game scoring four goals.

MASSACHUSETTS 6, HOLY CROSS 3

Jumping off to an early lead, the Massachusetts

Varsity Hockey team came through with a brilliant game to defeat Holy Cross, 6-3. Bruce Levis was outstanding on the offense, and Ed Frydryck turned in some excellent saves in the nets.

AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL 6,

MASSACHUSETTS 5

Failing to take advantage of some good breaks, the team saw its chances dwindling as A.I.C. went into the last minutes of play leading, 5 to 4. However, Ellis came through with a last second goal to gain a short reprieve. In a sudden death overtime, A.I.C. came through with a sizzling shot that Frydryck couldn't stop, and the Redmen suffered their third defeat of the year, which gave them a final season's record of two wins, three losses, and two ties.

Bull's-eye coming up!

Taking part in thirteen dual matches, the University of Massachusetts Rifle Team closed out their 1949-50 season with an impressive record of eight wins and five losses. The Riflemen more than held their own with some of the best teams in the East.

Such schools as Holy Cross, Yale, Boston College, and Harvard were numbered among the victims of our marksmen. The team hit its peak in the match with the United States Merchant Marine Academy which is one of the best in the country. Closely contested all the way, the Massachusetts Marksmen finally edged out the Mariners 1344-1343.

Winning three of their last four matches, the University of Massachusetts pistol team closed out the 1949-50 campaign with a record of eight wins and eight losses. The Redmen opposed colleges throughout the country and certainly added more than a little prestige to our school's name.

Such nationally famous colleges as Holy Cross, Princeton, and Michigan State absorbed stunning defeats at the hands of our marksmen. The Redmen hit their peak near the tail-end of the season when in a five game stretch four victories were recorded. The victories were gained at the expense of Lawrence Tech (twice), Michigan State, and New York Senior Maritime Academy.

FROSH BASEBALL

The frosh baseball team opened its abbreviated season in great style walloping Leicester Junior College 20-2. The remaining four games on the schedule resulted in three more victories for the "Little Indians", giving them a season record of four and one.

After banging out thirteen hits against Leicester the Ballmen suffered their only setback of the season, losing to Trinity, 4-0.

The next game was a 5-3 win over Springfield, as the team made their four hits count, playing smart baseball all afternoon.

Mt. Hermon and Williams provided the next two victories, ending the season for the frosh. The coaching staff disclaims any knowledge of these two games except that Massachusetts won them, 'nough said.

Timber-topper extraordinary

Although the freshman track team ended its season with a 0-5 record, three of the defeats were by quite a close margin. Carter and Bourdeau led the way with five wins between them as the team went down to its first defeat of the season—Connecticut 62, Massachusetts 54.

Defeats by Williams, Amherst, Deerfield, and Trinity followed; the latter two were, however, by only a few points.

The running events were fairly strong all year, Carter and Bourdeau pacing the frosh. The field events such as the high jump, shot-put, discus, and javelin, were sadly lacking in strength. This lack of strength on three occasions spelled defeat for the frosh.

Competing in only two dual meets against two of the stronger schools in the state, the young Derbymen twice met defeat.

The team showed balance in its first defeat against Massachusetts Institute of Technology, but lost by a score of 32-23.

Springfield in the second meet soundly beat the frosh 15-49.

In the Connecticut Valley meet the Massachusetts freshman team took second in a field of four—Springfield was first, Connecticut and Coast Guard bringing up the rear.

The last meet was the New England IC4A meet in Boston in which the yearlings placed 8th in a field of eleven.

The freshman soccer team, coached by Dexter Galusha, opened their season by shutting out Nichols Junior College 1-0. This win marked the first victory for the yearlings in their history. However, in their remaining games, the frosh met some bad luck and suffered three defeats, losing to Williston Academy 1-0, to the Amherst freshmen 3-0, and to Monson Academy 2-1. The freshmen were sparked by the outstanding play of left wing Dave Hunter, and halfbacks Gene Bragrel and Frank Dickinson.

FROSH FOOTBALL

The Freshman football fortunes came to an end this year as the team ended its season with a five hundred win-loss average. Under the tutelage of Coach Red Ball, the frosh opened at Wesleyan College in Connecticut, and managed to gain a solid 8-0 victory. Returning to Alumni Field, the Papooses met a strong American International College eleven and suffered their first defeat since 1946, by a score of 13-0.

At Springfield, the baby Redmen outfought a powerful Gymnast team, but lost their third game, 7-0. In their final game, the freshmen rolled up a score of 63-0 against Leicester Junior College. Every one on the team saw action as the score continued to pile up.

Coach Derby's freshman winter track team ended its season with a so-so record. Nevertheless it did show promise in spots, and should bolster next year's varsity in such events as the relay, half mile, and mile, among others. Its victories were accomplished at the expense of Wilbraham and Williston Academies, and the two defeats were at the hands of the Connecticut and Amherst freshmen teams. The standouts on the team consisted of Dewing, Briere, Conway and Prevey in the relay, and MacNiven and Walter in the halfmile and mile events.

Absorbing a 46-41 defeat at the hands of the Tufts' Freshmen, the Massachusetts Frosh Basketball team closed its season with an overall record of five victories and seven defeats. The team, lacking both height and a consistent scorer, might have sported a winning season if they had had a few breaks.

Playing spirited basketball all season, the team reached its peak just after the midway mark. Led by high scorers Lojko, Sniado, McGrath, and Boutillier, the frosh quintet racked up three victories in four starts.

SOFTBALL

The intramural softball season opened last spring with three leagues containing thirty-two teams. Berkshire captured the crowns of leagues B and C with identical 8-0 records. In the semi-finals, Berkshire B shut out Berkshire A 5-0 only to have Kappa Sigma come up with superlative pitching in the finals to shut them out 4-0 and annex both the interfraternity and intramural crowns.

FOOTBALL

The Fall of 1949 produced sparkling offensive and defensive records as intramural football commenced. With an increase in the number of teams, and the addition of another league, the lights at Alumni Field shone brightly over crowds of enthusiastic onlookers.

Alpha Epsilon Pi powered its way to its third consecutive interfraternity championship, roared by Brooks—champion of league B—32 to 20, and was halted only by injuries to be nosed out by Berkshire B—champion of league C—27 to 18. In recognition of the intramural championship each member of the Berkshire B team was awarded a medal.

Up in the air again

This winter, for the first time, a system of tournament play was introduced into intramural basketball competition. For the first time in the history of the sport, three leagues were in operation. The rules stated that an entry would be eliminated when it suffered two losses, while one loss would send the team into consolation play. The preliminary champions met the consolation champions to determine the finalists.

In League A, Theta Chi rolled through league competition, but met their match when they played Kappa Sigma in the league finals, going down to defeat 47-42. In League B, Berkshire B easily took the preliminary crown, and went on to defeat a fighting Commuter's team 43-19. In League C, a surprising Freshmen quintet, Butterfield D, overwhelmed all opposition, and beat Hamlin House 43-33 to annex the league crown.

In the finals, a strong Kappa Sig five, which had lost only to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, came from behind to beat Butterfield D, and then annexed both the fraternity and intramural crowns by nosing out Berkshire B, 29-21.

GOLF

With a nucleus of former members of the Devens Club, the golf team made its debut on the Massachusetts campus a successful one. The sport was inaugurated on an informal basis, but the enthusiasm with which it was received has earned it a place as a regular varsity sport.

The Spelman-coached team participated in six matches, winning four while losing two, and also took part in the Yankee Conference and the New England Intercollegiate meets where it placed fourth and eleventh, respectively.

INFORMAL SPORTS

In addition to varsity, intramural, and freshman sports' teams, the University provides an excellent all-around athletic program for all students.

One of the most popular sports is bowling. The University has installed a six alley bowladrome in the basement of Mem Hall. Here, any student may indulge in a few moments of recreation between classes.

Another extremely popular sport that was inaugurated on campus this year is co-ed swimming in the Curry Hicks Swimming Pool.

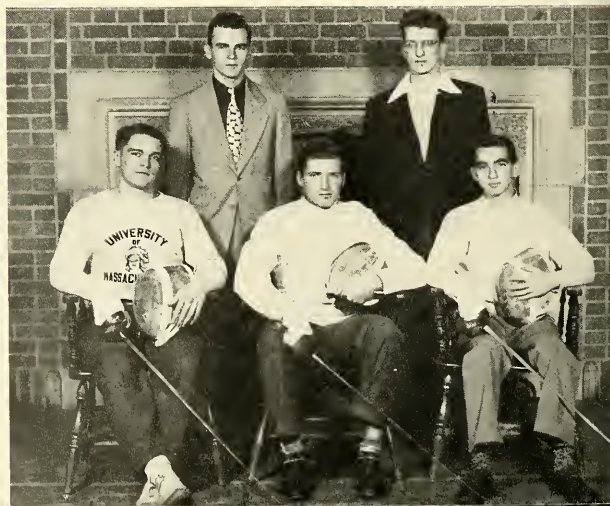

Other extra-curricular sports' activities include skating on the college pond, fencing, hiking, and most any other sport one may be inclined to indulge in. A complete collection of equipment is available to any who wish to keep physically fit.

FENCING

In the second year of its existence, the Men's Fencing Club scheduled matches against Springfield College, A.I.C., Springfield YMCA, Amherst College, and the Springfield Turnverein Club.

In addition to their own activities, the Fencing Club this year took on the sponsorship of a female group with the intention of training the women for matches in the coming year.

SKIING

The ever-increasing popularity of the vigorous sport of skiing is shown, at least here, by the reorganization of the Ski Club. Last Fall, this club was instigated once more, and a new constitution was worked-out, voted on, and adopted.

Among the several trips to the north country by the group were two to Davis Farm in North Sutton, New Hampshire. The first was, however, more of a beer party—no snow. But after this Christmas vacation trip, another was made between semesters. Snow!

OUTING

In the Fall of 1927, Curry S. Hicks and a group of students held an informal meeting on the steps of the Physical Education Building and formed the Outing Club. The objectives of this club are to acquaint the students with the benefits of the out-of-doors, with such activities as hiking, bicycling, camping out overnight, canoeing, swimming, skiing, rock climbing, sleigh rides, square dances, and the latest addition—the student-faculty “get-acquainted” hikes to distant mountains.

The club is a member of the 65 college Intercollegiate Outing Club, and also of the ten-college local group, the Pioneer Valley IOCA. The entire group of 65 colleges meet three to four times a year in different parts of the country and discuss the perennial problems of local groups.

ROD AND GUN CLUB

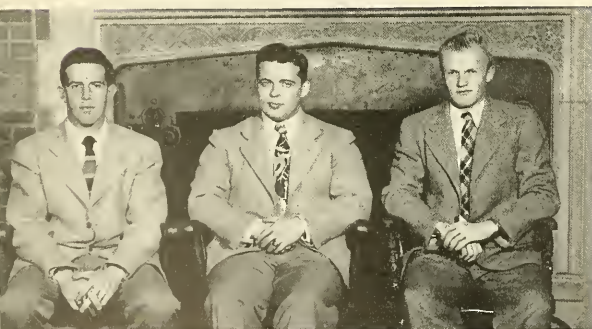

The Rod and Gun Club, a year-old organization, has established an enviable record for itself. Its fundamental purpose is to stimulate more interest in the natural sports of hunting and fishing. The club, this year, entered a team of five men in the New England Intercollegiate Fishing Contest. Besides lectures given by prominent sports writers and Massachusetts Conservation officials, the art of fly-tying and the care of equipment were taught to the club members. This year, members of the club were largely Wildlife majors; but it is hoped that in the future more students, other than Wildlife majors, will become actively affiliated with them.

VARSIITY "M" CLUB

William Looney, Vice-President; Robert Pasini, President; Edward Funkhouser, Secretary

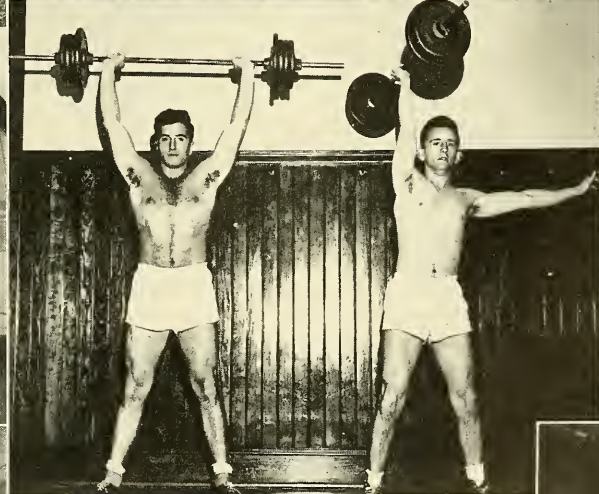

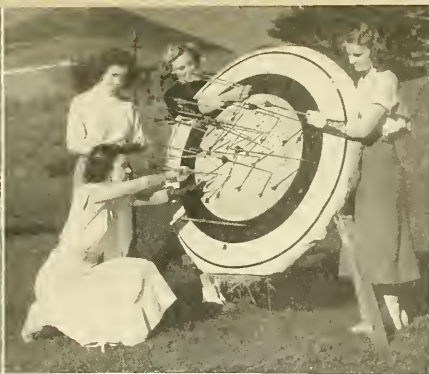

The Varsity "M" Club, representing all the monogram winners at the University and Devens, devoted itself towards its scholarship fund. The Varsity "M" Club scholarship fund is a student planned and student sponsored project. Football and basketball programs and concessions, the Winter Carnival and small School Tournament concessions, as well as the Fall Sports Day concession were the sources of its income. It is hoped that four scholarships can be given to worthy athletes this Fall.

PHI-ED CLUB

The Phi-Ed Club is devoted to "in-service" training for the benefit of those students who are majoring in the field of Physical Education. This "in-service" training is accomplished by a program of informative talks given by people who have already gained recognition in the Phi-Ed field. It is hoped that this type of program will give the student valuable aid in their chosen vocation.

WOMEN'S A. A.

One campus activity that very few people know about is the sports and recreational program put on by the Women's Athletic Association. The W.A.A. presents a program ranging from softball to swimming.

The W.A.A.'s program opened last spring with intramural softball competition between the girls' dorms and sororities. With two leagues in operation, the schedule moved smoothly. Kappa Alpha Theta emerged at the top of League A while Pi Beta Phi was champion of League

B. Unfortunately, however, rain forced the cancellation of the final playoff between the two.

In May, the Naiads, sponsored by the W.A.A., gave a May Day exhibition. The Naiads are a group of girls, taken from the physical education classes, who are proficient swimmers. Its purpose is to instruct and perfect the better swimmers and to form an exhibition group. The group was highly successful and brought a great deal of credit to itself and the school.

Another group fostered by the W.A.A. is the dance group. Like the Naiads, this is an exhibition group formed for the purpose of displaying various types of folk and popular dances. This organization also presented a program in the spring that was highly successful.

Last fall, the U. of M. girls swimming team entered a telegraphic swimming meet in the Eastern Sector. With 9 schools competing, Massachusetts finished fifth. However, certain U.M. girls took honors in the meet. Pat O'Rourke finished third in the 50 yard crawl; Betty Anne Traynor finished second in the 50 yard breast stroke; Betty Jane Farr finished first in the 50 yard back crawl; and the team won the 100 yard freestyle relay.

In addition the W.A.A. started the inter-class field hockey competition, which was won by the girl's freshman class; the dance group displayed their talents at a performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; the Naiads presented a winter exhibition during Winter Carnival Week; and the W.A.A., in conjunction with the Varsity "M" club, conducted a Freshman Play Day on Armistice Day which proved to be highly successful.

The Physical Education Department has set up a varied recreational program instead of a competitive one, in which all girls on campus may participate. Also, a women's fencing club has been organized this year. The girls have progressed so well that it is hoped that matches will be held next year with the Smith and Mt. Holyoke teams.

The day of registration does not come fast enough for a Frosh, but once it's here it's terrifying. "How dumb can we be?" they ask each other when they try to understand what O.C., C-Store, L.A., and all the rest mean. But once that first day is over, things seem to come more easily; they say "Hi" to people; they know the places; and they understand the rules. After only a month the Frosh were quite proud of themselves, but they had ample reason—they won the rope-pull from the Sophomores—no more wearing the tell-tale hats or signs, and no more bowing down to Scrolls and Maroon Keys. "Rushing" at the Frats and Sororities was confusing, but with this helter-skelter over, things settled down. The pace became slower, and the mistakes fewer.

Knowing campus life, however, was one thing. Knowing what a Prof wanted was another. But, by finals they all knew what to expect, and ground away earnestly. With the beginning of the second semester, our "old-timers" dug in with vim and vigor to finish their first year at college.

SCROLLS

Each spring at a special convocation for women students, thirteen outstanding girls from the freshman class are tapped for Scrolls, the sophomore women's honorary society. Selecting is made on the basis of personality, scholarship, leadership, and service. Members of Scrolls are known on campus by their maroon crew hats with a white scroll emblem.

The society promotes initiative, scholarship, and friendship among the coeds. Scrolls usher at concerts, aid their parent organization Isogon, act as guides at registration, and conduct a friendly initiation of freshmen to the traditions of the University.

The Maroon Key at work!

MAROON KEY

Hazing and the rope-pull, won handily by the sophs, started the year off for the Maroon Key. Duties became more difficult, however, as this group assumed its function of host to all visiting athletic teams. Form letters were sent out to inform these teams that they would be officially welcomed and attended to by the Maroon Key.

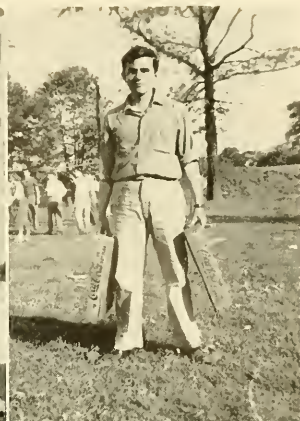

The number of "Key" members was increased from ten to twenty, this done in order to better control the increasing enrollment of the University. Also, in the past, members have been elected to the society; but, as it was felt to be more feasible, a new system was introduced—that of tapping.

"Where's your beanie?—and why aren't you wearing your placard?"—The sophs are here with their lording ways over the poor freshmen. Every year, the new sophomores face the same joys and the same trials—the joys of hazing the frosh and the trials of Pats, Psych, Chem, and Ec. The joys soon vanish, and are replaced by a seemingly endless array and confusion of books, books, and still more books. The weary then ask the upperclassmen that traditional question—"Is it easier after the second year?" The pessimistic answer depressing them still more, our tired little sophs trudge on to the library, there hoping to find a topic for Speech 29 or some information on the Federal Reserve Banking System.

Studying is tough for the sophs, but they manage to pull through; there is always so many other things to do and to think about, such as participating in the Interclass Plays (they came in second) and planning "Soph-Senior", the big hop of the year. Thus, our second-year students are important again; more than in their freshmen year they feel a part of campus life, an important part. And they really begin to know each blade of grass and each tree on campus—hunting around for ants, butterflies, bees, hornets, and all kinds of insects for their bug collection. "Ent" is a sophomore science that seems to appeal to everyone. What other course offers poison ivy, a dunk in the pond, and numerous picnics? Traveling around shows the sophs parts of our large campus that they had never seen before, and a feeling of belonging stirs the imagination and the heart.

JUNIORS

Alice O'Donnell, Secretary; Barbara Dean,

Frank O'Keefe, Vice-President; Donald Costello,

"Well, this year we can enjoy ourselves—take the courses we want, rather than those we have to." So speak the juniors—the uppercrust of the under-classmen. Yet, after a few weeks go by—oh, the woes we hear! "That gut course is sure backfiring. And, whoever told me he was a good prof? It wouldn't make any difference if he sent in a record instead of coming himself." The poor juniors, who thought they knew all there was to know about college, suddenly find out they have a lot more to learn. Being able to take the classes you want is good, but boy! how some of them can backfire!

This year the juniors find that more majors are being offered—the Economics Department has found lots of new names for its various branches. Despite the variation of majors offered and the time put in choosing one, our Jolly Juniors always manage a weak "Wha' happened?" It seems that wanting to major in Physiology and taking Food Tech instead is disastrous. Even though the juniors always seem to be worrying about their major, they still find time to have fun on campus; taking honors in the Interclass Plays and having the best actress and actor chosen from their class.

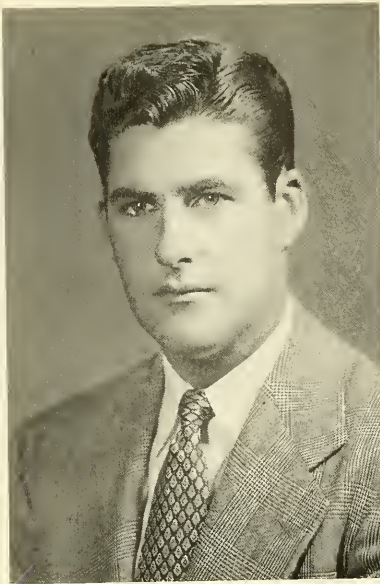

In the Spring, our Jaunt Juntors really have that spring fever; they find that there is only one more year to go, and that their work for the future is pretty well settled. More time is found for upsetting the campus with innovations in the Senate, and for looking into the future. The juniors start getting sentimental when commencement approaches. The girls' Junior-Senior Processional, at which Isogon is tapped and where candles are floated across the Pond, brings out all memories of the years spent here on campus. When commencement arrives, and the junior president accepts the mantel from the senior president, the juniors realize that the responsibility of the campus rests on their shoulders—they are now its leaders.

PHI KAPPA PHI

Thirty-one members of the class of 1950 were elected to the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi in October with more candidates due to follow in the Spring semester. This honor society, whose Massachusetts chapter was initiated in 1904, is especially appropriate on this campus for it does not limit its membership to students of the Liberal Arts. The founders of the society believed, as did the founders of the University, that a high standard of scholarship in any field of human endeavor should be rewarded. Hence we find among 1950's honor students agriculturists, engineers, scientists, home economists, foresters, and a variety of other specialists whose proficiency is being recognized.

ADELPHIA

Functioning as a service organization, Adelphia cooperated with Isogon in successfully executing the football rallies, arranging a day at one of the games for children from the Brightside Home, and sponsoring the production of Campus Varieties. Nine senior men were chosen to be members of the group at the annual Senior Convocation.

SECOND ROW: William Casey, Harold Fienman, Floyd Maynard, Joseph Dillman

FIRST ROW: Douglas Footit, Joseph Hilyard, William Troy, Robert Leavitt, Edmund Struzziero

Thelma Litsky presents prize to Catherine Peck for prize-winning name—Hamlin House

Nine senior women, chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, adaptability, and campus leadership, made up the 1950 Isogon group. The editors of "Co-Ediquette", Isogon members, also worked jointly with Adelpia in staging the football rallies, supervising the production of Campus Varieties, and, in general, working as a campus spirit committee.

T O THE

GRADUATES OF 1950

This is the largest class ever graduated from the University of Massachusetts and it will be several years before an equally large class can take its place on Commencement Day. More than three-quarters of the class are veterans. It represents the culmination of post-war veteran's higher education at the University.

You have made a lasting impression on the University. Your maturity and your interest and your ability have brought a new vitality and strength to student activities, much of which will endure. Your homes on the campus, your wives and your husbands and your children have brought something to the academic environment.

This yearbook is a memorial to your life at the University. Through the years it will remind you of many personal things that are not written on these pages. Most important are the friendships formed by close association in classes and in campus organizations. They may be treasured memories only or they may be kept alive and active in the years ahead if you will make a little effort to maintain contacts. The decision rests with you.

We are still interested in your progress and we hope you will keep in touch with the University. Wherever you go and whatever you do, you have our best wishes—always.

FAREWELL TO BAY STATE

Words and Music by
F. D. GRIGGS, '13

There comes a time when col - lege days, So
Four years of work and growth have been These dear to all must have an end: And now that time has come, when years of col - lege life so free. We'll join the race and let them
REFRAIN
we Must hit the trail on life's as cent. Then hear From Mas - sa - chu - setts qual - i ty.
Very slowly fare-well to Bay State, Our Al - ma Ma - ter true. Then fare-well, the hour comes When we must bid a - dieu. Then here's to our col - lege In our hearts shall be nigh, So fare-well to Bay State, But not good - bye.

Every Day is Thrift Day at A&P!

YOU don't have to shop on special days to save money at your A&P Super Market, because we keep all our prices just as low as possible six days a week. How can we do it? Simply by not resorting to sales for one or two days . . . or offering week-end specials . . . but making our prices just as low as we can, and keeping them low for as long as possible. This famous A&P policy saves plenty of people plenty of money every day. Stop in at your A&P today and see how much it can save you!
